Lumbering

TIMBER had played an important part in the culture of the Indians in Clatsop County, long before the Astor party landed their ship, the Tonquin. The Indians used hemlock roots for fishing nets, finely shredded cedar bark for towels and for the strange hula-like petticoats their women wore. Cedar planks, clean split, formed their lodges. Hollowed and shaped trunks of cedar trees were fashioned into large seaworthy canoes in which they navigated the rivers and sometimes went on voyages out to sea.

The first white people to cut trees in the county were members of the Lewis and Clark Expedition in 1805. They built a log fort 50 x 50 feet with an open stockade in the center for their temporary home called Fort Clatsop.

Alexander Ross of the Astor party related that the Astorians of 1811, amazed at the size of the giant spruce trees, would chop them down with axes and then run wildly to escape the falling giants. Alternately chopping and running made hard work of logging and it sometimes took days to fell a single tree.

The first white settlers later built their houses of smaller logs which could be erected with little help and were close at hand.

The beginning of lumbering as an industry in Clatsop County started in the middle 1800s. Logging and milling methods were primitive. Trees were felled by hand from the forests near the mill, and bordering the stream on which the mill was situated. This land logging was often called jack screw logging. Hemlock logs were felled lengthwise down the hill and fir trees were felled across them to roll almost all the way to the river.

Trees were cut eight to 12 feet from the ground in order to avoid stump rot or cross grain for which the mills paid nothing. Lumber from the early mills was sold rough, and the reputation of the mill stood on the quality of lumber it produced.

Although the hand logging was common until the turn of the century, the use of ox teams started almost as soon as the hand logging got under way. Pioneer loggers used ox teams and skid roads—short logs laid parallel, over which timber was “skidded”—to transport the logs to streams in which they could be rafted or driven to the mills. From two to eight yoke of oxen made up the “bull teams” that were used to haul upwards of 25,000 feet of logs. Drivers used every persuasion to encourage their bull teams, one shouting and swearing while another ran from ox to ox whispering endearments.

Ed and Pete Malone, operators and master craftsmen of the woods, brought down timber in the Lewis and Clark River country, using ox teams first, and after 1895 the donkey engine and high line. Ed knocked down millions of feet of young growing timber in high line operations in the 80s. Men did the work in those days, not machines. Today 15 men do the work that it took 150 men to accomplish in the early days.

Those older methods of logging began to disappear as the donkeys increased in size and power. About 1894 John Chitwood used the first steam donkey in Clatsop County; it was made in Astoria by John Fox. A year later a donkey was brought from Portland by John F. Christians.

N. B. Bain was the leader in a gigantic logging enterprise—floating logs to tidewater through an immense canal from Seaside to Warrenton, about four miles from the mouth of the Columbia River. The canal was built in 1905—three miles long, 20 feet wide, and ten feet down.

By 1900 the steam donkey was in general use throughout the county. While machinery was replacing horses and oxen in logging camps, the ever increasing distance between standing timber and the streams were intensifying the problem of transporting logs to mills. Close-in timber had been largely cut, and the hauling distances were becoming too great for oxen.

The logging locomotives came into Clatsop County in the 80s. The first locomotives were run on wooden rails spiked to heavy timbers, and developed power from an upright steam boiler which was capable of hauling a small load of logs at about the speed of a walking horse. These inefficient locomotives were discarded in the 90s either for used transcontinental railroad engines or later for locomotives manufactured specifically for logging railroads. By this time the hills and valleys of Clatsop County were covered with networks of logging railroads. Their combined trackage totalled many hundreds of miles, and over those tracks rolled many billions of board feet of logs: stately old-growth fir and spruce.

The Big Creek Company had a railroad that ran from Knappa up Big Creek, with spurs leading out to the logging operations on the slopes of Big Creek basin. The Eastern & Western Railroad ran from tidewater on the Lewis and Clark River up to the source of that stream and all the way around Saddle Mountain. Railroads ran up Gnat Creek and Hunt Creek to tap the timberlands.

One of the most extensive logging railroad networks that existed in the late 1920s and early 1930s enabled one to ride by rail from Olney to the Nehalem Valley and into the hills south of it, then loop back to the Nehalem Valley again at Birkenfeld, and back across the hills to the Columbia River again, a trip of nearly 100 miles entirely by logging railroad.

In 1929 two former loggers, Jens Lerback and Ernie Dawson, and shortly later a third, Bill Hollenbeck, started hauling logs with trucks around Brownsmead. These three men are credited with pioneering a logging method employed by 20 of the 26 logging operators in Clatsop County since then. Hollenbeck's development of the logging truck trailer is believed by some to be the first in the field. A significant change in the logging industry took place during the next 12 years—from the use of railroads and high-lead methods to the use of truck-and-trailers and tractors.

During the earlier period, wood workers lived in free bunk houses, furnishing their blankets. Usually there was a Chinese cook for each dozen men in camp. The bull puncher, or driver of the oxen, was considered the most important man in the woods. He was paid $100 per month, while a tree faller was paid $40. The team of oxen was driven to the river bank with five or six logs or approximately 35,000 feet to tow. Creeks were dammed and small sloughs were used on flood tides to get logs to tidewater, where they were made into rafts by scaled thousands. Spring freshets in Big Creek were utilized.

The earliest industrial structures in the county were sawmills, the first one built being known as the "Hunt Mill." It was at Cathlamet Head, on Mill Creek, a little stream about 400 yards back from the Columbia River and about one and a half miles above where the Clifton cannery stood in 1958. The irons for the mill were brought across the continent by the proprietors—Henry H. Hunt and Ben Wood—in ox wagons in 1843; but when they arrived they found they could have purchased as good iron here from the Hudson's Bay Company for less money. The mill was completed in the summer of 1844. Edward Otey was the millwright.

That sawmill was run by water power, with an overshot wheel whose diameter was 30 feet. Wooden cogs were used on the wheels to run the machinery, and some of the cogs, made of oak and crabapple wood, would wear out in a week. Few would last a month. The master wheel on the shaft with the water-wheel meshed into a small counter-wheel which in turn meshed into the crank shaft which operated the saw. The mill had only a sash saw, and when cutting, the log was put in place for each cut with crowbars. Most of the lumber cut was from 12 to 24 feet long, but this saw could cut the lumber 30 feet in length. The cutting capacity was from 3000 to 5000 board feet of lumber a day. When the water was high, by running the mill night and day it would turn out 10,000 feet in 24 hours. Until 1849 lumber at the mill usually sold for $10 per 1000, and for the most part was sold to stores in Oregon City.

Hands were paid $1 a day and board, both in the woods to fell trees and in the mill. Employees were whites, Kanakas (Hawaiian Islanders), and Indians. The trees were so near and the location of the mill was such that at first only one yoke of oxen was used in getting in the logs.

Part of the lumber at this mill was exported to California and the Hawaiian Islands. The brig Chenamus and the bark Toulon loaded there, and in 1849 the brigs Henry and Quito also took loads. In the later year the bark Sylvia de Grasse also got about 300,000 feet of lumber. That vessel, on her way down to the river ran onto a sunken rock about one and a half miles above Astoria and became a wreck. Her cargo was taken out and forwarded to California in three other vessels.

The Milwaukie and Abernethy's mills at Oak Point, however, supplied the greater part of the lumber for the California trade in the middle 1800s.

In 1846-47 a small sawmill was built by the Robert Morrisons at the southern end of Clatsop Plains, on the Ohanna (Wahanna) Creek, just north of where the Astoria Coast Railroad crossed the creek near Seaside. Its cutting capacity was 1000 board feet of lumber a day. That sawmill made spruce lumber principally, and only a few 1000 feet of its manufacture were ever exported. The distance was too great to haul it to the Columbia River to make it profitable, and the principal trade was local. The sawmill never proved to be a paying investment. Later it was converted into a grist mill.

It is believed that the first steam mill was built in 1848 by J. W. Shively and located where the Hammond mill was later built. There seem to be no records left.

In 1849 the John Moreland's mill, just above Tongue Point, was constructed. It was later destroyed by fire. Solomon Smith established the Harold Lumber Mill on the Lewis and Clark River in 1851. The same year James Welch and others built the first mill in now Astoria, located in the block bounded by Commercial, Bond, 9th and 10th streets. It was afterwards owned by W. W. Parker and known as the Parker mill. Link Parker was born upstairs in this mill.

In about 1852 a Mr. Packard had a sawmill built on the site of present Gearhart.

A sawmill, erected in 1852 by John Moreland, was located near Ohanna Creek,—so situated as to utilize the stream as a mill-race. Lumber sold at that time for about $16 per 1000 board feet.

D. K. Warren went into the logging business on his own, spending most of the years between 1853 and 1860 in the Knappa-Svensen locality. During that time he purchased 360 acres on what is now called the Bagley property at Knappa, located about 13 miles above Astoria, with a frontage on the Columbia. The dock where Warren shipped and received supplies became well known to rivermen as Warren's Landing. He sold logs to Astoria mills.

In the spring of 1856 John West started a sawmill in Westport, working long hours. The primitive equipment could cut 1500 feet a day. A few years later he had a small band saw installed. The mill had a two-head rig with a circular and band saw later, as the mill prospered, enlarged with two more water-wheels. West sold the lumber to California buyers at top prices for that day. He built a general merchandise store as the area around the mill grew into a small community. Ships came several times a year with supplies which were exchanged for lumber.

Some of the first lumber sawed at the mill was for the West's home.

West ran his mill until the early 70s when he turned his interest over to David West, son of his cousin John West II. David West, Frank Lovell and Robert Tompkins formed a new company and built a two-story steam mill near the entrance of Plympton Creek, close to the shipping point. The first export lumber cargo from the water-driven mill was shipped on the British sailing vessel Onward in 1868 to Melbourne and Sydney, Australia. Loading lumber on the sailing vessel was very slow in those days, taking six weeks sometimes to load, 1,000,000 feet of lumber at the rate of 20,000 feet per day, using hand winches.

The Westport mill changed hands many times, with a Mr. Palmer and a Mr. Stoddard as the one-time owners. In 1908 a fire leveled the mill, which caused the store to be closed, a blow to the town of Westport.

In 1810 Myron Woodard purchased the mill site and built a new, improved mill with an electric generator that furnished power to nearby villages and the city of Clatskanie. A ten-foot band saw was installed, a new planer added, and the logging dock enlarged. A night shift was added and after World War I the mill at times was running three eight-hour shifts. There were no horses on the docks of up-river mills by 1924, but Westport still had one doing odd jobs, such as pulling lath trucks.

Woodard was able to handle the biggest logs in the world. Even as late as 1931 when Old Ironsides' masts were cut, there was only one other mill capable of handling such large timbers.

Modern methods of loading ships came into use when Westport purchased two large cranes with goose neck booms in 1928.

In 1929, when the market crash came, Westport was one of the few mills still able to operate, although its production was greatly cut and the three shifts were whittled down to one. Most of the mill orders were from the east coast. The planer mill was improved with an equalizer—a set of saws operating automatically to trim the ends of planed lumber, cutting each piece to exactly the same length and squaring the ends. To make the planed lumber more attractive Westport sprayed the ends, for lumber had to be discarded and was burned if it fell below three grades. Today planed lumber sells for $30 or more for 100 board feet.

With the start of World War II, Westport furnished many long timbers and long planks for the shipyards. Long timbers were a specialty with the mill, which had an extension carriage that sawed logs up to 125 feet long.

In 1945 the Westport mill was purchased by the Shepard and Morse Lumber Company, which also had lumber yards in Boston, Mass. In 1947 Westport's shipment by boat to the east was over 7,000,000 feet of surface lumber.

In February, 1956, the Shepard and Morse Company at Westport closed their mill, as it was uneconomical to operate the old plant because of lack of logs of sufficient size.

In 1958 the "John West House" was still standing. Although it has been remodeled several times, the original joists and timbers are still in the building.

The Hume and Farel mill was built in 1867 in Astoria and burned in 1883.

Thad S. Trullinger built his own mill in 1876 and operated it with its "30-lamp" Keith machine that was built to order in San Francisco. It was the most complete sawmill and box factory on the Columbia River, with capacity of 50,000 feet of lumber a day. Trullinger also built a railroad to Walluski. The mill was called the Old West Shore Mill in 1885, and was then owned and operated by John C. Trullinger, the company's president. The mill provided Astoria with boxes until the early 1900s.

The McGregor mill was built in Astoria in the early 80s by William F. McGregor and a Mr. Mead, although Mead left the partnership in a few years. It was a circular sawmill which cut 45,000 feet per day and had a small dock for water shipment. An old lumber truck and two horses were used to transport the lumber around the mill yard. The mill also had a box factory which ran for a year after the mill burned and then moved to the Clatsop mill in the later 1930s.

The Clatsop mill was built by the Marshall J. Kinney family in 1884. It cut 80,000 feet a day and had a box factory which made 5000 boxes per day. The mill burned and was rebuilt in 1903 as a box mill and a sash door factory which employed 120 men to the shift. This factory was destroyed by a second fire in 1914. It reopened in 1921 as the Astoria Box Company and employed 60 men at that time.

When the McGregor mill burned after the First World War, McGregor, a Mr. Callender and W. P. O'Brien took over the Clatsop mill. It ran until 1930 when it was closed and later taken over by the county for taxes. Later in the thirties this mill was leased to the Astoria Spruce Company for 50 cents for each 1000 board feet the mill cut. In 1945 Astoria Spruce sold out its equipment and the mill changed hands again in 1948 before closing down in 1949. The mill site was sold by the county to Astoria Plywood Co-op.

There is only one plywood plant in Clatsop County, organized in 1950 and named the Astoria Plywood Corporation. The originators were Norman Jacobsen, president, and A.G. Hesselgesser, secretary. Shares were sold to 200 persons, giving each buyer a part of the business. In 1956 there were 192 share owners; most of them working in their own company. In 1958 there were only 30 workers who had no shares in the plant.

Douglas fir, yellow fir, and spruce are used to make the veneer. The logs are rolled and sawed in the water with a lifter clamped on them. The lumber is marked for interior and exterior water-proofed use—principally in building homes. The scraps of bark and roughage are made into fuel, the better scraps into paper.

Many new developments have characterized this unique company in Astoria, one of which was the start of embossed plywood pressing. Three rollers and an embossing press were added, so the firm could produce three separate embossed designs.

In 1956 this corporation had three machines: Skoog (means wood in Norwegian), made by Norwegians in Olympia, Washington, who manufacture it; and two Raimann machines, made in Germany. The Skoog machine cuts out defects and knots, then patches the defects with good stock, all in one operation, in core stock. The Raimann machines cut out defects and knots, then patch the defects with good stock, all in one operation, in face and back stock.

In 1956 there were 230 employed men, but there had been as many as 250 men at one time.

Fred Peirson became manager of the Astoria Plywood Corporation in 1958, after Elmer Hall resigned.

In the later part of the 80s, C. Holt had a planing mill on what is now 5th street in Astoria.

The first mill in Warrenton was the Kelly mill built in 1890, later taken over by D. K. Warren, a steam-driven mill fronting the Skipanon River. Records show that at that time lumber prices were very low as evidenced by the fact that street planks sold for $4 a 1000 feet.

The Van Vleet Logging Company began buying lands in the Cannon Beach area around 1900, and in 1958 this company had large timber interests, enough to support a moderate operation for another 20 years or more. George Van Vleet is the owner and operator.

In 1900 a mill was started at Nehalem Valley by the Clatsop County government to cut road planks, for at that time large sections of the roads in the county were planked.

In 1902 Warrenton Lumber Company was built in Warrenton, and later enlarged to cut 100,000 feet per day. The mill closed down after running six years. It was started up again by Ed P. Smiley and Jacob Lambert in 1910. From then on until after World War I, this mill was busy. In 1916 the Old-Smiley-Lambert mill was turning out spruce for army airplanes. In the 1920s, with machinery of the mill outmoded and production expensive, its operations were shut down. During World War II, the machinery that turned out spruce for airplanes was gathered in the form of tons of scrap metal, then sent on its way to the fighting front in the shape of ammunition.

In 1903 Fritz Johanson and Nels P. Billie built a cabinet workshop and a shingle mill called the Astoria Lumber Company, on West Bond and Taylor Avenue in Astoria. Johanson was president and Billie manager. They employed 40 men. The mill burned in 1908, was rebuilt and ran until the thirties, before closing down.

The two-story Hammond mill, with a sawfiling room yet on a third floor, one of the largest mills on the coast at that time, was built in 1903 by two Astoria cannery men, the brothers

George W. and William R. Hume. It was 60 feet wide and 250 feet long and was called the Hume mill at first, but later known as the Tongue Point Lumber Company. The mill started cutting in February, 1904. There were 12 boilers in the fire room. The transportation around the mill was provided by 12 teams of horses and a two-wheel truck. One buggy horse was kept to drive to town.

When A. B. Hammond purchased this mill in June, 1908, he took over many notes of indebtedness. Hammond bought a tract of 300,000,000 feet of fine, old growth timber at Oak Point on the Washington side of the river. The mill and logging were under the management of George B. McLeod, who was manager of this big sawmill for 20 years. In the fall of 1910 horse power was reduced, although few horses were entirely replaced by small gas-driven tractors that pulled the trucks around the yard.

In 1910 Hammond enlarged the cargo dock to load three steamers at a time. He had five steam schooners, the largest of which loaded 2,200,000 feet. The mill ran two shifts with 450 men employed. At that time the company had one of the largest lumber yards in the world at San Pedro, California.

A fire on September 11, 1922, destroyed the Hammond mill. It has not been rebuilt. Besides the mill, 2,000,000 feet of finished lumber in the large dry sheds, four loaded railroad cars, and a large amount of green lumber went up in flames.

In the early 1900s Seaside boasted two sawmills and a sash and door factory, employing a considerable number of men.

In 1906 the Seaside Spruce Lumber Company was furnishing ties for the electric railroad. In July of the same year, the company sold out its business.

In 1911 reverses struck Seaside hard. The Multnomah Trunk and Box Company closed; the Seaside bank failed. The president of the bank was also president of the Seaside Sash and Door Company. The closing threw many men out of work and struck hard at merchants and individuals who had deposits.

The W. J. McCready retail service plant's lumber yard is a continuation of the sawmill.

The Crossett Timber Company started operating in 1908 in Clatsop County with C. H. Watzek as secretary of the company. It was sometimes known as the Watzek-Crossett-Gates Company.

A. W. Clark completed construction of the Wauna mill early in 1912. In January, 1913, it was bought at 50 cents on the dollar by the Watzek-Crossett-Gates Company. The same company bought a large tract of timber in the Knappa area that stretched almost to the Nehalem Valley. Some horses were used at first, but the mill purchased one of the first carriers in the country, a Stetson-Ross, operated by Electric batteries. The Wauna mill always enjoyed a large rail business.

In 1915 this company was called the Crossett-Western Company. It sold out to the Evenson Brothers in August, 1941. The Mill employed 190 men in 1955 and could cut 175,000 feet in an eight-hour shift.

The Big Creek Logging camp, which was associated with the Wauna mill, employed 200 men and had 12 donkeys, averaging 276,000 feet per eight hour day. In 1923 a fire spread to Big Creek lands and caused one of their biggest fires. In 1942 Big Creek was closed and the remaining land and timber were sold to St. Helen's Pulp and Paper Company.

The Larkin and Green Logging Company was incorporated April 30, 1912. In 1914 it was one of the largest logging operations in Clatsop County; it employed 300 men and owned 21 donkeys. The company had a railroad from Blind Slough which ran to the territory west of Clatsop Crest. The company was dissolved in 1931.

Brewer Billie built a mill at Young's Bay in 1920, planning to use alder. The mill was incorporated by him, A. V. Allen and Fred Ward and was called the Allen mill. Within a year a shingle mill was added to the operation. Alder was brought from as far as Clatskanie, the rafting being a ticklish matter since there was the need for the strongest wire because of the far distance the booms had to go. The Japanese market took a spurt at that time, and the mill started cutting baby squares of hemlock and fir. The mill, however, was discontinued in the early 1930s.

Theodore Dichter, who had built a mill at Seaside in 1913 and then moved to the state of Washington, came back to Warrenton in 1921. In 1922 he went into partnership with the Prouty brothers (his brother-in-laws), Bert, Walter, Arthur, Fred and Emery, and they built the Prouty Lumber and Box Company, with John A. Prouty as president. At the time of full operation it employed 200 men, and created Warrenton's biggest payroll. It was an export mill with a world wide market, water shipments going to Japan, Australia and England. The first foreign vessel to take cargo was the British steamer Rio Azuli, known as the "blister ship." It carried 3,600,000 feet of lumber to Shanghai in 1923. In 1924 the first steel vessel ever to enter Skipanon waterway was the steam schooner Paraiso, loading lumber. The mill was in continuous operation until closed on October, 1953.

In 1952 Theodore Dichter's two sons, Ted and Ralph, bought the Gearhart Hardware and Lumber store from Carl Lolk, former mayor of Gearhart, and called it the Prouty Retail store. In 1955 they renamed it Theodore Dichter Company. It is a retail lumber business.

In the twenties Tidewater Logging Company built a railroad into Nehalem Valley, and Pope and Chester Company put in a railroad in Olney. The company had nine donkeys.

In the peak year, from March, 1928, to March, 1929, 12 logging companies in Clatsop County cut 790,245,000 feet of timber.

During the slack years of 1931 Hollenbeck, Lerback, Dawson and others bought up isolated timber tracts of 80 to 160 acres from the larger companies, who found it uneconomical to extend rail facilities for logging the small blocks. These loggers, abandoning high-lead methods, snaked the timber to improvised loading platforms, built temporary roads into their holdings, and moved the logs out by truck.

Logging railroads have been abandoned by the major logging companies in the county. Trucks are used now exclusively. In 1941 the Crown Zellerbach Corporation removed its last railroad operations in Clatsop County. The Crossett-Western, Grand Rapids Timber, Oregon-American Lumber and Tidewater Timber are no longer operating companies, so do not maintain railroads.

The truck loggers were Bagley Brothers, Dawson, and Hitman, Clay Dooley (sold later to Emmett Shields), Ebsen Brothers, George S. Gray, Knute Johnson, William Hollenbeck, Reed Holdings, Jens Lerback, L. and L. Logging Company, 3-M

Logging Company, C. L. McPherson, Riggle Brothers, Shield Brothers, Schetky Logging Company, G. R. Van Vleet, D. T. Waterhouse and Yunker and Wiecks.

It was in the 1930s that the large bulldozers and truck almost completely replaced the older logging methods and thus made possible the appearance of the "gyppoes," small individual logging outfits. The gyppoes sprang up in abundance after the Second World War, but they are now on the wane, as they become squeezed between the high costs of operation and stump age, and scarcity of timber.

Art Rasmussen of Cannon Beach was one of the two dozen or so gyppo operators for the Crown Zellerbach Corporation. Rasmussen started his small business in 1948 at Elsie, cutting spruce, cedar, and hemlock. After logging there for four years, he moved his outfit to Olney. He had an average of eight men on the payroll. Rasmussen's yearly output was about 4,000,000 board feet which was hauled to the Andy Young log dump at Olney. His largest tree logged was 13 feet 9 inches at the stump—a yellow fir about 550 years old. Most of the work had been cat logging with some high lead—the use of a spare tree to which logs are hauled overhead with lines from a yarder.

One of the only four independent alder mill operators, and running the smallest lumber sawmill business in Clatsop County is Daniel H. Erickson. He operates his own portable three-man sawmill eight miles south of Elsie, where he started in 1941. Erickson buys stumpage mostly from farmers or wherever he is able to get it. Sometimes he purchases logs. The western red alder is cut for furniture into one-inch board lumber with a 50 inch diameter saw and 150 horsepower gasoline engine. He sells the lumber to Sterling Furniture Manufacturers in Portland.

In 1931 Young's Bay Lumber Company—new hemlock saw mill—was built near Warrenton. It operated until the 1940s.

As hemlock came more into demand, Bradley and Myer Woodard built a mill at Bradwood in 1931. Harry Bradley had in 1915 built a railroad up the canyon to the top of the mountain south of Clatsop Crest; it was used up to the early 1930s. In the same locality was located a water-driven mill which shipped lumber to the California market. The Bradley-Woodard mill was purchased by the Columbia Hudson Lumber Company in 1946. It employs 170 men and the output is 70,000 board feet per shift.

The Uptegrove Lumber Company was established in Astoria in 1933, with Harley Turlay owner and manager. It employed 75 men in the manufacture of thin spruce lumber. The mill had a consumption rate of 15,000,000 feet of logs a year and, although it used mostly 8-foot lengths, it could cut to 18 feet in length. The company had a boom at Young's Bay where it quarter-sawed the spruce logs. This plant, still in operation, employed 135 men and women in 1955.

Harold Turlay made the statement that Crown Zellerbach supplied his firm with 90 per cent of the log supply in their 23 years of operation. Russell Fluhrer of Fluhrer Brothers Shingle Company made the same statement. In 1956 the Fluhrer Brothers' operation stopped. At that time 115 persons were employed.

In the summer of 1956, two new lumber enterprises got under way in the southern end of Seaside where a large pond offered an opportunity to handle logs economically for both mills. The Girt Shingle and Lumber Company, built and operated by E. O. Girt, C. O. Girt, and J. V. Girt can cut approximately 40,000 feet of lumber daily. Ten to 12 men are employed on a shift. The Seaside Shingle Company mill was built by Fred S. Baker and Lloyd Smith in the same area. It has a capacity of about 65 squares of shingles for each eight-hour shift. With the exception of the planing mill operated by the Girt firm, these are the only two mills which manufacture timber products in Seaside at the present date.

In January, 1956, the new Warrenton Lumber Company mill was built on the site of the former Prouty Lumber Company which had been completely dismantled.

In addition to Clatsop County's sawmills and other types of lumber enterprises, its timber is also used to support pulp mills.

R. M. Brayne, in 1886, designed, built, and operated the first groundwood pulp mill in Oregon. It was located at Young's River Falls in a thickly wooded area 14 miles by rowboat from the deep harbor at Astoria. From Astoria the ocean steamers would carry his ground wood-pulp to the California Paper Company at Stockton, where it would be processed and made into paper for the West. Brayne chose this location during the spring freshets when the falls on Young's River cascaded down over the rocks and the high tides covered the shallow river. All their mill supplies had to be delivered at high tide by a sailing scow, privately chartered, or by the steamer that came up Young's River every Friday to within a mile of the mill.

There were 40 tons of wood pulp to be delivered weekly by the sailing scow to Astoria. Delay in shipping meant missing the steamer, and missing the steamer meant money wouldn't be coming back from Stockton, California, until after the help had to be paid at the mill. Getting a crew and keeping them fed depended on the unpredictable ways of the tides and men. The owner of the sailing scow wasn't always dependable, and sometimes he wouldn't even come to pick up the wood pulp.

R. M. Brayne soon discovered that it took much money to pay for a mill and the processes that put finished paper on the market hundreds of miles away by ocean. Brayne could turn out wood pulp with the best of them, but the heavy mill expenses worried him so he hoped he could sell his mill.

William Pierce Johnson, general manager of the Stockton mill, came to see Brayne about buying the mill at Young's River Falls. Johnson planned to ship the paper pulp from Astoria up the Columbia to be processed in his new sulphite plant, Willamette Falls Pulp and Paper Company, in Oregon City, where he started operating it in 1889. Johnson said they would put Brayne and his nephew Duncan Shanks on a guaranteed year-around salary, leaving them right there on Young's River to run the mill just as they always had done. Brayne realized that the day of the big companies had come, so he and Shanks sold their mill and gladly accepted the jobs. Shrewd Brayne invested the money he received from his mill in a water falls at Port Angeles, Washington. (Years later, when the Washington Pulp and Paper Company built its plant at Elwa, they purchased Brayne's land along with the water falls.) Meanwhile Brayne worked in the mill at Young's River until it was closed in 1904, and the machinery was moved to Willamette Falls. Later the Young's River site became the terminal for Willamette Falls Pulp and Paper Company's logging railway that ran deep through the mountains, hauling logs back to the mill on the Willamette.

The Crown Zellerbach Clatsop County property was one of the first in the United States to be certified as a tree farm, carrying pledges to keep the land growing continuous, successive crops of trees under the best forest practices possible. The first purchase of forest land by the Crown Zellerbach Corporation on the Clatsop Tree Farm was on January 13, 1893, and subsequently over a period of 60 years the tree farm has been enlarged to its present size, a forest of 184,000 acres in the northwest corner of Clatsop County. Crown-Willamette Corporation, one of the major owners of timberlands in Clatsop County and one of the pioneers in setting up sustained yield management and reforestation programs, was expanding its acreage in those years at a time when other owners were "giving the stumplands back to the Indians."

Crown was quietly buying cut-over acreage and adding to its holdings, with obvious intent to stay in the logging business permanently. In 1925 the corporation started a reforestation program in Clatsop County—the slogan is "Trees Forever." Crown's Clatsop tree farm's annual growth has been at least twice as great as the annual cut, in spite of the tremendous demand for timber during the past few years. There is every reason to believe that within 25 years the Crown tree farm will sustain an annual cut of at least 120,000,000 board feet, or two or three times the average for the past ten years, and this cut can be maintained forever.

St. Helens Pulp and Paper Company, an Oregon Corporation which was merged into the latter in 1953, adding 50,000 acres to the company's holdings. The former company had bought the former Crossett-Western Company holdings in Clatsop County in the 1940s.

In spite of the large-scale cuttings, present merchantable stands cover two-fifths of the commercial forest area, the bulk of which is in the western portion of the county.

Logs harvested on the Crown Zellerbach's Clatsop County tree farm are converted into paper products at their mills in Camas, Washington, and St. Helens, Oregon. Clatsop County logs are transported in rafts to Camas and St. Helens.

The Crown Zellerbach Corporation owns the world's largest living Douglas fir tree, whose estimated age is a thousand years.

It is 15½ feet in diameter and 250 feet tall to a broken top. About 100,000 feet of lumber are contained in it, but it will not be cut unless it becomes dangerously weakened by natural enemies. Picnic grounds on the edge of the Necanicum River provide a stopping place on the road for tourists to see the "big tree."

Two other pulp and paper companies, the American and the Publishers, utilize Clatsop County's timber.

The American Lumber Corporation started logging in the far southeast corner of the county in 1923 (called Camp McGregor in 1958). In 1958 they sold to Long-Bell Lumber Company, and in 1956 that organization sold to the International Paper Company. Their mill is located in Vernonia (just outside the county) and all logs are hauled there by train.

In March, 1956, Publishers Paper Company of Oregon City bought a 130-acre tract of county-owned timber at auction for $152,000—the highest price ever paid for hemlock in Oregon. The location is on highway 101 east of Skipanon River.

Logging today is a highly skilled and specialized job, involving the use of large amounts of heavy equipment. Logs must be dragged from where they are felled by the falling crew to a loading stage, in some cases by means of heavy wire cables wound on drums of huge diesel-driven donkeys. Rigging these yarders brings into play one of the most dangerous skills in the logging industry, the high climber. The high climber must climb a spar tree, often to a height of 150 feet, cut off the top of the tree, and then rig it, attaching to its top such items as blocks weighing 1,400 pounds. The logs are usually dragged out of the woods by the use of huge caterpillars and "arches." Sometimes tractors, equipped with heavy drums, are used as donkeys. The logs are loaded on huge diesel trucks for transportation to tidewater on the Columbia River where they are made up into rafts and towed to the mills.

All logging roads built are permanent with a heavy rock base, to be there when the next crop of trees is ready, and so they can be used the year round, regardless of the weather. Vern Davis is resident logging engineer and has charge of Crown's roads.

Fire protection involves the construction and maintenance of more than 40 miles of telephone line, the maintenance of at least six weather stations, and the operation of fire patrols and six lookout stations. Those stations are Sugarloaf lookout, Boiler Mountain lookout, Saddle Mountain lookout, Nicolai Mountain lookout, Wickiup lookout and Green Mountain lookout (administered by the State). Power pumps, with water tanks, holding as much as 2000 gallons, are distributed at strategic spots throughout the area, with reserve tanks located where they are likely to be needed. There is a fire unit organized with portable equipment. Charles L. Wood is the tree farm's resident forester.

John Straight, employed by Crown Zellerbach for 48 years, supervised reforestation in Clatsop County for the last 32 years, and planted or supervised the planting of more than any other man in the world, according to E. P. Stamm.

Growing timber on areas which have been denuded of their forests involves reforestation projects. In Clatsop County, seed trees are left standing, trees are planted in areas where animals, birds, wind, disease or fire destroyed the seeds, and some areas are seeded by helicopter or airplane. It takes from 80 to 100 years to grow trees for the sawyer and 60 years for the pulp mill.

There are in the county about 5000 acres of state parks and other state-owned areas, much of which must be logged under a selective logging plan to prevent the wastage of over-ripe timber. The watersheds of the cities of Astoria and Seaside, involving hundreds of acres, are producing timber that eventually will become available for selective logging. It is judged that the timber areas of Clatsop County will eventually sustain a cut of at least 300,000,000 feet annually. This is more than twice the average cut for the early 1950s. The economic future of the area is secure, and a far greater rate of employment can be sustained than that maintained during recent years. The modern logger, to be certain of having a constant supply of timber, must be concerned with the growth and protection of trees, as well as their destruction whereas the old time logger cut down trees and moved on.

Ship cargo loading has enlarged and improved throughout the years in Astoria, where the cargo dock was enlarged to its present size to allow room for two ocean-going vessels and one steam schooner. A report of a ship's arrival is usually received a month or so ahead, and the lumber is then piled on the dock.

In 1930 a great improvement in ship loading came with the construction of a long sorting chain for grading and sorting for export lumber. The lumber was then stacked in unit loads. By the later thirties only six men were needed to deliver up to 600,000 feet a day with cranes to the ship.

In the logging and lumbering industry there are also local sales as is exemplified by two of the several retail stores selling lumber in Clatsop County. The Cannon Beach Lumber Company, started in 1935 by the brothers Emmett and D. R. Jacobsens, is a retail lumber business, selling fir, cedar and hemlock for home building.

Another retail lumber store, the Cannon Beach Millwork Company, was opened in Cannon Beach in 1945 by two friends, Walter White and Don Erickson. In addition to selling lumber, the company produces built-ins, desks, doors, windows, and sash.

In 1914 a cruise of timber in Clatsop County set a figure of a little more than 15,000,000,000 feet. In almost three decades more than one-half the county's total timber resources have been cut by one of the west's greatest industries.

In 1933 the disastrous Tillamook burn covered 40,000 acres of Clatsop County timber, consuming an estimated 1,000,000,000 feet. A year later fire struck again, this time taking about 97,000,000 feet.

In 1943 the state forestry department entered into an agreement with the county which has become generally known as the 90-10 agreement. This arose because of the fact that much of the county land when deeded to the state contained a stand of old growth timber of excellent quality. This land had been carried at the expense of the county for many years and officials did not feel that they should immediately give the state a 25 percent equity as provided in the acquisition law. Instead, both the state and the county felt that management could be financed through a ten percent allocation to the state.

Accordingly deeds were given to the state by the county with a ten-year timber reservation and immediately thereafter a management agreement was signed by the state and county, wherein the state agreed to handle the land and timber with an allocation of ten percent of the gross sales.

During the past several years, a complete inventory of the state land indicates an annual cut of about 40,000,000 board feet per year which will be increased to 100,000,000 board feet by the end of the first rotation. It will remain at that point thereafter.

The future potential of Clatsop County's forests, which is widely distributed throughout the county, is still enormous Prouty brothers, who are building a sawmill on the Wahanna river near Seaside, have incorporated as the Prouty Lumber & Box company and will soon be putting rough and dry lumber and box shooks on the market. J. A. Prouty is president, A. N. Prouty is vice president and F. W. Prouty, Jr. is secretary. The mill will shortly be put in operation to saw enough lumber for dry kilns and the necessary buildings. As soon as these are completed the mill will start full capacity. Electric power will be furnished by the Seaside Light & Power company, which will also extend its day service to other shops and factories in the city. Heretofore the electric plant has only been giving a night service. There is a possibility that the box factory of the defunct Seaside Lumber & Manufacturing company, which has been idle for the past three years, will resume operation. The machinery from the sawmill of the defunct concern was sold to Prouty brothers and is now being installed.

The Prouty Bros. Lumber and Box company has several large contracts for lumber and boxes and the mill will commence operation the first week in January and it is hoped that activity in the lumber market from this date will keep the mills and logging camps busy during 1915.

The Seaside Canneries Incorporated have about completed a building for the purpose of canning fish, clams and small fruits and within a short time the machinery will arrive and be installed for use during the spring months. The management informs us that several ranchers have already contracted to put in a number of acres of loganberries this season and many others will raise small fruit for the company.

During 1915 there are many more important matters that will take the attention of not only Seaside but will interest the entire county and state. The proposed canal from Seaside to Young's Bay will be constructed and in all probability an electric road will connect Seaside and Astoria with rail service. Two large apartment houses will be erected on the west side of the river and at Gearhart and Cannon Beach building activity will be at its height within the next few months that will make brisk trade for those two territories adjacent to Seaside.

PROUTY MOVES HERE.

Mr. Bert Prouty, president of the Prouty Lumber and Box company will take up his permanent residence in Warrenton on September 15th, he having rented the D. K. Warren home which is not far distant from the Prouty sawmill. Walter Prouty, a brother, has resided here for several months. Emery S. Prouty, a member of the Port of Astoria commission will continue to live at Seaside and will take care of the retail lumber business for the Warrenton Lumber company and the Prouty interests on the west side. Arthur Prouty and family still live at Seaside as does Ted Deister, a brother-in-law. The two men motor to Warrenton daily.

Prouty Mill Plant Gains Machinery

Stetson-Ross Trimmer And Big Sorting Table To Be Added To Plant

Improvements calling for an investment of between $10,000 and $15,000 are being made at the plant of the Prouty Lumber & Box company at Warrenton, according to reports by company officials.

The new developments include:

Installation of a Stetson-Ross, double end, automatic trimmer. This trimmer cuts lumber to exact dimensions and is in accordance with east coast demand. Under former practices lumber was always cut about two inches longer than the stated dimension in order to allow for checking of the ends. This necessitated it being sawed by the carpenters even if it was ordered to fit the work. The new automatic trimmer will cut the lumber exactly to order and then the ends will be painted by the spray gun method. This painting prevents the ends from drying out and checking.

The other principal improvement is construction of a new sorting table which will be from 250 to 300 feet long. Here lumber will be assorted and parcelled for shipment instead of on the docks. The method provides for a faster, more economical and efficient system of handling, and speeds loading.

The Prouty Lumber & Box company plant was established at Warrenton in 1922. It has capacity to cut 175,000 feet per eight-hour shift and regularly employs between 150 and 165 men. It cuts principally for ~~the west and the domestic market in California and the lumber trade in~~ Atlantic coast business.

Prouty Mill Shut Down By Strike

Loggers From Seaside Put Pickets Around Plant; Youngs Bay Mill Still Operating, Is Report

The Prouty Lumber & Box Co. mill at Warrenton which has been operating steadily since the start of the timber strike early in May was closed Thursday morning when loggers pickets from the Seaside district appeared in front of the plant.

According to Theodore Dichter, mill manager, the company decided to close operations rather than ask employees to go through the picket line.

Strikes Seaside

This movement was not initiated by our employees," Dichter said today. The Seaside group appeared last night and informed me that unless we agreed immediately to pay 60 cents an hour base wage, work the men 30 hours a week, and agree to a closed shop we would be stopped this morning. We could not agree to such terms and decided to shut down and await developments."

The Youngs Bay Lumber Co. at Warrenton was still operating today and the Weyerhaeuser steamship Hegira at the mill docks was being loaded. It was understood that the Seaside group has agreed to allow the mill to operate pending the expected return from California Monday of Charles Miller, manager, after word was received from Miller that he would negotiate with the group upon his return.

Uptegrove Still Runs

Both the Prouty and Youngs Bay company plants have been paying a base wage of 52½ cents an hour, 10 cents above the former minimum, since May 1.

The Uptegrove Lumber Co. sawn-wood plant in this city was still operating this morning but was expected to close any time on account of a log shortage.

The shut down will bring the total of unemployed men in this county due to the strike to about 2200.

Mill operators in the district received word today that delegations of employees from the Bridal Veil Lumber Co. and from the Stimson Lumber Co. of Forest Grove were in Salem today to ask Governor Martin for protection in returning to work. It was stated they would declare that they are being kept from work by about 5 per cent of their number who are picketing the plants.

Uptegrove And Prouty Mills To Open Monday; Logging May Also Start

The lumber situation in Clatsop county was brightened in some ways by reports today and darkened in others.

The management of the Uptegrove Lumber Co. in Astoria, employing over 100 men, announced late Friday that their veneer plant here would open Monday. Manager Turley stated he had been visited by union officials Friday and urged to open his plant on the same conditions as prevailed before it was closed about ten days ago. He said that they suggested that arbitration could be carried on later with the plant running and after northwest veneer plants had determined on a schedule of wages and conditions.

The management of the Prouty Lumber and Box Co. announced that their plant at Warrenton employing over 100 men would be opened for operation Monday. It was stated that no arrangement had been made with the union but that the mill would be opened on the "Longview plan" basis and that the mill employees had indicated their desire to return to work.

The Young's Bay Lumber Co. plant at Warrenton is operating under an agreement with the union.

Reports from the Cronett-Western Co. mill at Wauna where in connection with their logging operation at Knappa and the Westport Lumber Co. mill at Westport, were to the effect an offer had been made to the men to open on the "Longview plan" basis, said that the employees after a committee had been to Longview returned with a claim that the company's idea of the Longview plan and theirs differed and that the plant would be closed indefinitely.

Reports also indicated steps of the smaller logging camps in the county might open Monday.

Big Picket Line Halts Mill Start

Prouty Firm Changes Its Mind About Opening As Crowd Gathers; Major Mills In Area Closed

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3. (U.P.)—All lumber mills and job shops in San Francisco and many in the east closed their doors today as members of the Carpenters' and Joiners' union walked out on strike.

Spokesmen said the lumber strike in the Pacific northwest had no direct bearing on the local difficulties, although reports indicated the northwest strike had "given impetus" to the walkout.

Plans of the Prouty Lumber & Box Co. to open its Warrenton sawmill this morning on the basis of the agreement reached between the strikers and operators at Longview, Wash., were halted when between 250 and 300 pickets from the logging camp area south of Seaside gathered at the mill this morning. The management announced that rather than ask the workmen to pass through the picket line the opening plan would be abandoned. No plans for negotiations were given out.

The Young's Bay Lumber Co. mill at Warrenton, which recognized the union in an agreement reached last week, is operating and the Uptegrove Lumber Co., plant here opened this morning after union officials.

No other timber operations are under way in the county as far as could be ascertained.

Major Mills Still Closed

week and informed the management that it could be opened Monday on the same basis prevailing before the strike.

mills and camps, all major mills in the Portland, Grays Harbor and Puget Sound areas, were still closed by the northwest lumber strike and close to 30,000 men were still idle.

Mills and camps of the Long-Bell and Weyerhaeuser companies at Longview re-opened today under an agreement giving the men an increase of five cents an hour in the minimum wage bracket.

Some 1500 furniture workers went back to their lathes in Portland factories.

When 1500 men returned to work at the Southeast Portland Lumber company's mill, they found 100 pickets surrounding the plant. The workmen entered the mill however, and were not molested by pickets.

An equal number of pickets were chased away from the Bridal Veil Lumber company's mill at Bridal Veil, Ore., by deputy sheriffs and that mill re-opened.

Abe W. Muir, executive vice-president of the International Brotherhood of carpenters and joiners, was in Seattle today attempting to establish conciliation with Puget Sound mill owners.

Owners of most of the large mills in Portland, Grays Harbor and Puget Sound have refused to treat with the men or consider any wages increased whatever.

Mauser Purchases Yard In Seaside

SEASIDE, July 20.—Purchase of the Prouty Lumber & Box company retail yard in Seaside by F. G. Mauser was announced here this week. Hereafter the company will be known as the F. G. Mauser Lumber company, but will continue to purchase its supplies through the Prouty yard of Warrenton.

Mr. Mauser has operated a lumber yard in North Bonneville the past year and a half, previously owning a lumber yard in Amity. He and his wife and two sons have moved to Seaside and are temporarily domiciled in one of Keck's cottages on South Third street.

Outside Pickets Close 2 Warrenton Mills; 350 Men Quit Work

Invading Group Refuses To Tell Where From; No Negotiations In Progress Today, Say Mill Men

Approximately 350 sawmill workers refused to pass a picket line outside the Prouty Lumber & Box company and the Young's Bay Lumber company mills this morning and caused cessation of work at the mills today.

Pickets refused to disclose their identity but are believed to be workers from Tacoma where mills are closed.

Mills at Waukena, Bradwood and Westport continued to run today.

It was reported today that the O'Brien-Gram Spruce company mill in Astoria would be picketed soon, but the rumor could not be confirmed.

Workmen contacted in Warrenton today reported that no negotiations are scheduled and that no compromise had been reached. This was further substantiated by mill representatives, indicating that a deadlock had been reached in negotiations.

Workmen are asking for a 7 1/2 cents an hour increase in wages and a week's vacation with pay. An offer was made last week by the mills which would give the workers a 6 1/2 cents an hour increase in pay but no mention was made of the vacation period.

Workmen and mill representatives met this morning at 1:30 o'clock and mill men offered workmen 5 cents an hour wage increase and a week's vacation. Workmen have refused the offer.

Theodore Delichter, manager of the Prouty mill, reported today that if the workmen take the offer made early this morning they will be the highest paid mill workers in the industry.

Workmen at O'Brien-Gram are scheduled to meet tonight. No demands have been made to officials at the mill yet.

Longshoremen dispatched this morning to load lumber on the freighter Ormar lying at the Prouty mill dock refused to pass the picket line. The vessel is scheduled to sail this afternoon without loading.

Warrenton mill officials said a large number of pickets appeared this morning, but that all but a few had gone this afternoon.

3 Seattle Mills Reopen

SEATTLE (UP)— Three Seattle lumber mills reopened today in the first break in the Pacific northwest timber tie-up.

Pickets observed a temporary court restraining order, withdrew their lines and permitted the Stimson Mill Co., to resume operations. The Seaboard Lumber Co., and West Waterway Lumber Co., plants also were free of pickets and reopened.

Presiding Superior Judge Malcolm Douglas of King county Saturday granted a temporary restraining order against "further interference with Stimson mill operations by eight locals of the Puget Sound district council, Lumber and Sawmill Workers union (AFL)."

The Stimson mill was one of 10 closed in Seattle Friday by pickets from Tacoma and Everett. Plant officials will appear in court Friday seeking a permanent injunction against picketing.

Tension eased generally with announcement Portland mill hands had agreed tentatively to a compromise wage scale.

37 Mills Closed

Thirty-seven mills and five logging concerns in western Washington already have been closed by strikes, and some 13,000 men are idle. Spokesmen for the AFL Lumber and Sawmill Workers union and the CIO International Woodworkers association predicted two mills at Seattle and two near Renton would close today. CIO officials also threatened to throw picket lines around four Portland mills today.

William Hutcherson, international president of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, AFL parent body of the lumber workers, has protested the placing of pickets around ten Seattle plants which have contracts with the AFL. He wired Earl Hartley, president of the Puget Sound district council, urging withdrawal of the pickets, since nine mills had granted a five-cent hourly wage increase recently and a tenth has a contract providing the full 70 cent an hour scale demanded by the strikers. The Seattle mills were closed because they were handling "hot lumber" from struck mills.

In Tacoma, the Boom Men and Riggers union, CIO, begins negotiations tomorrow for a dollar a day wage increase and a week's vacation with pay.

Warrenton Mill Workers Dicker With Management Again Today

Pickets Continue On Hand

No Other Local Plants Affected

Negotiations between sawmill workers and mill operators at Warrenton were held yesterday afternoon. It was reported today but no agreement was reached. Another meeting started at 9 this morning and was still in session at 11 o'clock.

Meetings are being held at the offices of the Youngs Bay Lumber company.

O'Brien-Gram Spruce company reported this morning that the local mill continued to run and that no demands have been made on operators by workmen. A meeting of mill workers and a Tacoma representative scheduled for last night failed to materialize when the Tacoma man didn't appear it was reported today.

Uptegrove Lumber company at the port docks continued to run today. Workers at the veneer plant have not made any demands for wage increases.

Pickets were still on hand outside the two Warrenton mills and neither was operating today.

Upriver mills at Wauna, Westport and Bradwood were still operating and had not been affected so far by the dispute, it was reported. The Knappton, Wash., mill was also unaffected.

Theodore Deichter, manager of Prouty mill, announced this afternoon that no agreement had been reached in the meeting between workmen and mill operators this morning.

Negotiations still revolved about the offer of a 5 cent per hour raise and a week's vacation with pay offer made by the operators yesterday, Deichter said.

Workmen are meeting this afternoon to discuss the offer further it was reported. Another meeting between workers and operators is scheduled for tomorrow.

Teamsters Picketing Seaside Firm

Pickets have been posted by the Teamsters' union at the Fred G. Mauser Lumber company plant at Seaside following attempts to organize all truck drivers in the city.

A representative of the Astoria local of the Teamsters union said that at a meeting of truck driver employers recently, Mauser had agreed to have his two drivers join the union with the rest of the drivers in Seaside.

The union representative here said that when the meeting of drivers was called, the two men employed by Mauser did not show up. He indicated that the Mauser plant was the first of possibly several in Seaside to be picketed.

Mauser Issues Statement

Eli McConkey, local labor official, said that the Seaside Carpenters union had approved the action. He indicated that the teamsters' union was convinced Mauser did not meet the union wage scale.

Mauser issued a statement today in which he said, "After much deliberation and discussion, my drivers decided not to join the union. The main reason was that Seaside has no teamsters local and they do not wish to belong to a local that is located and controlled in Astoria. After all why should a group in Astoria dictate policies for Seaside working men? It is only natural that Astoria working men should have no interest in the welfare of a very small group from Seaside. The union officials admit that there is nothing they can do in our case to help our employees' working conditions or wages but we have always understood that those are supposed to be the chief objectives of the union."

Sawmill Shutdown Reopened

Negotiators Take Offer

A decision by the union's negotiating committee, to accept the offer of mills in Warrenton for payment of 5 cents an hour increase and a week's vacation with pay, dissolved today a shutdown of the Young's Bay and Prouty mills there and more than 400 men were prepared to return to work this afternoon.

The two mills had been shut down for two and one-half days, during which pickets, presumably from Tacoma, patrolled the mills and Warrenton workers refused to pass the lines, although they emphasized their refusal was not a "strike."

The pickets left the mills about 9:45 a. m. today, on orders from the Tacoma headquarters of the lumber and sawmill workers' union. Joe Nichols, president of the Warrenton local and chairman of the negotiating committee, said the pickets were withdrawn after his union protested their actions were "unfair," since they picketed the Warrenton mills and yet permitted others "to operate under the same conditions."

Rank and file of the Warrenton local had not yet voted on the proposal today, although the negotiating committee said it would recommend the mills' management proposals. The union members will vote on the proposal later.

Portland Plan Popular

The Warrenton settlement was patterned after the "Portland Plan" submitted there by Ernest Marsh, federal conciliator.

Today at noon in a special meeting the Wauna local, International Woodworkers of America, accepted the offer of the Crouzett-Western Timber company for a uniform 5-cent an hour increase in pay and a week's vacation with pay.

This is the first CIO local in the lower Columbia to accept the offer made by the Columbia basin loggers, the organization of employers. The offer was made to the negotiating committee of the Columbia river district council of the IWA Tuesday night in Portland. Other locals are expected to act on the proposal in the near future.

There was no strike or loss of working time at Wauna.

Bertel McCarthy, secretary of the International Woodworkers of America, the CIO organization among loggers and sawmill workers, declared today that his organization had no official connection with the AFOL in signing new working agreements in the sawmill industry.

McCarthy said that some CIO elements had met with AFOL forces at Centralia recently to map out joint action in renewing working agreements, but no such action was approved by CIO headquarters.

The secretary spoke before the local convention of the International Fishermen and Allied Workers today. The convention pledged support for true CIO principles even though their adherence aroused conflict in the woodworkers' own group. McCarthy told the convention that his organization was in a fight to the finish for maintaining its identity.

Prouty brothers, who are building a sawmill on the Wabanna river near Seaside, have incorporated as the Prouty Lumber & Box company and will soon be putting rough and dry lumber and box shooks on the market. J. A. Prouty is president. A. N. Prouty is vice-president and F. W. Prouty, Jr., is secretary. The mill will shortly be put in operation to saw enough lumber for dry kilns and the necessary buildings. As soon as these are completed the mill will start full capacity. Electric power will be furnished by the Seaside Light & Power company, which will also extend its day service to other shops and factories in the city. Heretofore the electric plant has only been giving a night service. There is a possibility that the box factory of the defunct Seaside Lumber & Manufacturing company, which has been idle for the past three years, will resume operation. The machinery from the sawmill of the defunct concern was sold to Prouty brothers and is now being installed.

Club's Annual Elections Held On Tuesday

Arthur N. Prouty was elected commodore of the Astoria Yacht club at the annual election meeting Tuesday night.

Other officers for the coming year include Joseph Dyer, vice-commodore; Lester Horton, rear-commodore; Jack Reed, fleet captain; Nels Abrahamson, port captain; Reuben Jensen, secretary; E. M. Cherry, treasurer; Dr. Arthur Van Dusen, fleet surgeon.

Directors for the year include E. M. Cherry, T. B. Cook, A. N. Prouty, A. C. Fulton, Lester Horton, Nels Abrahamson, Reuben Jensen, Joseph Dyer, Jack Reed, Ross Willey, Axel Englund, Dr. E. H. Prehn and Mayor J. C. Ten Brook.

The club is planning to start preparations early for the 1935 Regatta, and announcements concerning the Regatta plans will be made soon.

Gleaming Streamlined Joanne Joins Astoria's Yacht Fleet; Boat Owned By Arthur Prouty

Gleaming white, streamlined according to the latest modern design and seaworthy, the cabin cruiser Joanne built for Commodore A. N. Prouty of the Astoria Yacht club was launched from the ways of the Astoria Marine Construction company shipyard Sunday. The craft was designed and built by Joseph M. Dyer, prominent marine architect.

As it left the ways the vessel was christened by Joanne Prouty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Prouty, Winlock, Wash., and niece of Commodore Prouty. After being launched the craft was taken to the yacht club moorings from which point Commodore Prouty took numerous groups of guests for short trips.

Is 26 Feet Long.

The Joanne is a 26-foot cruiser powered by an 85 horsepower Chrysler marine engine which will give a top speed of about 16 miles per hour and a cruising speed of about 12 miles per hour. She has a 2-foot 6-inch beam and draws only about three feet.

Despite her trim lines which gives her a rakish look, the Joanne has sleeping accommodations for about eight persons. There are two bunks in the fore and a double and single berth in the after stateroom. There is also provision for a double berth in the pilot house.

Will Install Galley.

A full galley is to be installed in the Joanne and there is a lavatory located amidships. The craft has a fairly large closet adjoining the after stateroom and has considerable cupboard space.

The power plant of the Joanne is located aft instead of being under the pilot house as in many cruisers. This eliminates much noise and since the engine is mounted on rubber there is a complete lack of vibration.

The hull of the Joanne is constructed of fir and she is trimmed with mahogany.

Miss Thomas And Mr. Prouty Marry At Ritual Today

Charming in its simplicity was the wedding ceremony of Miss Edwina Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Thomas of this city, and Gordon Prouty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Prouty, also of this city in the St. Mary's church, Saturday, April 18 at 1 o'clock, with Father Munnane officiating.

The bride, lovely in a white satin gown made with princess lines and a long tulle veil trimmed with lace, was given away by her father. She carried a cascade bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Jessie Thomas, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was charming in a yellow net gown and carried a bouquet of Talisman rosebuds.

Ray Prouty, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. A. J. Antonich.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home for relatives and close friends.

After a short wedding trip the couple will make their home in Astoria.

For a going away outfit, the bride wore a blue suit with dark blue accessories.

The bride is a graduate of the Star of the Sea school and the groom of the Astoria high school.

June Prouty Weds Lester Horton At Lovely Service

Miss June Prouty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Prouty of Astoria, became the bride of Lester Horton, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Horton also of this city, at a lovely ceremony held Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church with the Rev. P. M. Blenkinsop reading the services.

The church was lovely in decorations of greens and late summer flowers. Immediately preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Dan C. Hall sang "I Love You Truly" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told." Mrs. C. A. Reed played the wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown, fashioned on the princess lines with a long train and small built-up collar. Her long white tulle veil was caught coronet style at the back of her head. She carried a lovely bride's bouquet of pale yellow rose buds and bouvardia.

Miss Patricia Prouty, sister of the bride, and maid of honor, wore a waltz blue satin gown, fitted on the basque style with a gathered waistline and short puff sleeves. The Misses Peggy and Virginia Prouty, sisters of the bride, were her bridesmaids, wearing similarly styled gowns of rose satin. The maid of honor carried a nosegay of pink sweetpeas and the bridesmaids carried similar nosegays of pale blue sweetpeas.

Best man for Mr. Horton was Eugene Mellison, cousin of the groom, of Seattle, Wash. Ushers for the wedding were Donald Goodall, Ray Prouty, George Peeke and Raymond Horton.

Mrs. A. N. Prouty wore a wine colored afternoon dress and a lovely corsage of gardenias and Mrs. Horton, a lovely black afternoon dress with a similar corsage.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the wedding. The bride's table was attractive with a large wedding cake set off with white tapers in silver candelabra. Miss Lucy Horton, sister of the groom, served the wedding cake and Mrs. Dorothy Haase and Miss Ruth Prouty poured. Assisting about the rooms was Miss Helen Horton.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home here in Astoria where Mr. Horton is employed by the Fisher Brothers Hardware company. For going away the bride wore a wine ensemble with a brown fur coat and brown accessories.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Margaret Prouty, Miss Gloria Prouty and Mrs. Thompson of Portland and Eugene Mellison of Seattle.

Peggy Prouty Tells Wedding Date At Shower

Mrs. Merwyn Olsen, Mrs. Leger Horton and Miss Ruth Prouty were hostesses Friday evening at the Prouty home for a bridal shower feting Miss Peggy Prouty. During the evening Miss Prouty told friends of her engagement and approaching marriage to Frank Parker December 18.

Miss Prouty is the daughter of Mrs. Pearl I. Prouty and Mr. Parker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eben P. Parker. The bridegroom-to-be is a senior at Oregon State college and a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Games were in play during the evening with prizes going to Miss Betty Holst and Mrs. Fred Jensen. Clues concealed in poems in balloons about the rooms led the bride elect to the hidden gifts. Pink and white chrysanthemums were used about the rooms and centering the refreshment table was a large decorated cake topped with a miniature bride and groom under an arch.

Present were Mrs. Fay Hanks, Mrs. Leonard Donaldson and Mrs. Rose Edwards, all of Seaside, Mrs. Mary Knudsen, Mrs. Pearl Prouty, Mrs. Ed Thomas, Mrs. Orville Nygaard, Mrs. Davis Danielsen, Mrs. Fred Jensen, Mrs. Howard Parker, Mrs. Eino Juola, Mrs. Bud Christensen, Mrs. Charles Ordway, Mrs. Eben Parker, Miss Mariet Nygaard, Miss Betty Holst, Miss Virginia Prouty, the hostesses, Mrs. Olsen, Mrs. Horton and Miss Prouty, and the guest of honor, Miss Peggy Prouty.

Peggy Prouty; Frank Parker Pledge Vows

A beautiful candlelight ceremony read Wednesday evening at the First Methodist church united in marriage Miss Margaret Ann Prouty, daughter of Mrs. Pearl L. Prouty, and Frank F. Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eben P. Parker, all of Astoria. Rev. R. A. Fedje officiated in a setting of white chrysanthemums, palms and greens at 7:30 o'clock.

Preceding the service Mrs. Lester Horton and Mrs. Mervyn Olsen lighted the tapers and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hall sang "Because" and "I Love You, Truly." Accompanying them at the organ was Mrs. C. A. Reed, who also played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Gordon Prouty. She wore a traditional white satin gown with full skirt, fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline. Her fingertip veil was caught in a tiara of seed pearls and she wore her mother's gold locket. Her flowers were Tallasman roses centered with an orchid.

Miss Virginia Prouty was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a pink gown with bouffant net skirt and taffeta bodice and carried a nosegay of roses. Acting as best man was George Zehlick and ushers were Davis Danielsen and Joe Day.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's mother. White and yellow chrysanthemums were about the room and centering the bride's table was a three-tiered wedding cake topped with pink roses and a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. John Chisholm poured and Mrs. Lester Horton cut the cake. Assisting were Mrs. Gordon Prouty and Miss Ruth Prouty. In charge of the guest book was Miss Betty Holst.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Prouty wore a blue velvet afternoon dress with blue accessories and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Parker, wore a black afternoon dress with matching accessories. Both had corsages of pink rosebuds.

After a wedding trip down the coast, Mr. and Mrs. Parker will make their home in Corvallis, where Mr. Parker is attending Oregon State college.

For traveling Mrs. Parker wore a brown dressmaker suit with brown fur coat and accessories and an orchid corsage.

Out of town guests here for the wedding were Mrs. Leonard Donaldson and daughter, Evelyn Marie, and Mrs. Fay Hanks of Seaside, George Zehlick, Paul Evensen, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Day, Bill McGinnis and Paul Johnson, all of Corvallis, Mrs. Leonard Gadenberg of Kelso, Mrs. H. McAdam of Rainier and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon S. Prouty and family of Carlton, Ore.

Christ Chapel Prouty-Burnett Wedding Scene

Calla lilies and spirea decorated Christ chapel of the First Methodist church Friday, May 21, for the wedding of Miss Virginia Louise Prouty, daughter of Mrs. Pearl L. Prouty of Astoria, and Classen Roy Burnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus L. Burnett, also of this city. Rev. R. A. Fadje performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Gordon Prouty. She wore a beige afternoon dress with pink hat with matching veil and brown accessories. Her corsage was of orchids.

Miss Betty Holst was maid of honor. She wore a powder blue afternoon dress with matching accessories and a corsage of sweet peas and yellow rosebuds. Mervin Olson acted as best man and Lester Horton was usher.

Preceding the ceremony the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Harold Avery, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Stone Kinney. Mrs. Kinney played the wedding music.

Mrs. Pearl Prouty chose for her daughter's wedding a blue chiffon velvet afternoon dress and Mrs. R. L. Burnett, the bridegroom's mother, wore a cream wool afternoon dress. Both had corsages of gardenias.

Members of the immediate families attended the wedding and reception which followed at the home of the bride's mother. A bowl of white snapdragons flanked by white tapers centered the tea table. Miss Ruth Prouty poured and Mrs. Mervin Olson cut the wedding cake. Out of town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Prouty of Carlton, Keith Prouty of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parker of Corvallis.

The couple left for a short wedding trip down the coast and upon their return will be at home at the Home apartments. For traveling Mrs. Burnett wore a moss green suit with brown accessories and a beige topcoat.

June Prouty Weds Lester Horton At Lovely Service

Miss June Prouty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Prouty of Astoria, became the bride of Lester Horton, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Horton also of this city, at a lovely ceremony held Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church with the Rev. P. M. Blenkinsop reading the services.

The church was lovely in decorations of greens and late summer flowers. Immediately preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Dan C. Hall sang "I Love You Truly" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told." Mrs. C. A. Reed played the wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown, fashioned on the princess lines with a long train and small built-up collar. Her long white tulle veil was caught coronet style at the back of her head. She carried a lovely bride's bouquet of pale yellow rose buds and bouvardia.

Miss Patricia Prouty, sister of the bride, and maid of honor, wore a waltz blue satin gown, fitted on the basque style with a gathered waistline and short puff sleeves. The Misses Peggy and Virginia Prouty, sisters of the bride, were her bridesmaids, wearing similarly styled gowns of rose satin. The maid of honor carried a nosegay of pink sweetpeas and the bridesmaids carried similar nosegays of pale blue sweetpeas.

Best man for Mr. Horton was Eugene Mellison, cousin of the groom, of Seattle, Wash. Ushers for the wedding were Donald Goodall, Ray Prouty, George Peeke and Raymond Horton.

Mrs. A. N. Prouty wore a wine colored afternoon dress and a lovely corsage of gardenias and Mrs. Horton, a lovely black afternoon dress with a similar corsage.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the wedding. The bride's table was attractive with a large wedding cake set off with white tapers in silver candelabra. Miss Lucy Horton, sister of the groom, served the wedding cake and Mrs. Dorothy Haase and Miss Ruth Prouty poured. Assisting about the rooms was Miss Helen Horton.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home here in Astoria where Mr. Horton is employed by the Fisher Brothers Hardware company. For going away the bride wore a wine ensemble with a brown fur coat and brown accessories.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Margaret Prouty, Miss Gloria Prouty and Mrs. Thompson of Portland and Eugene Mellison of Seattle.

A. N. Prouty, Retired Mill Man, Passes

Arthur Newton Prouty, 56, member of the family which has operated the Prouty Lumber & Box company sawmill in Warrenton since 1922, died early Wednesday morning in Riverside, Cal., where he had been living for the past several months.

Mr. Prouty was born in 1881 in Lawton, Ia. In 1900 he came west to Bellingham, Wash., where he and his brothers operated a sawmill at the nearby town of Ferndale. He was married there to Pearl Rogers of Bellingham in 1905.

In 1912 the Proutys came to Seaside and established a sawmill there, later establishing the present Warrenton mill in 1922.

Mr. Prouty retired from business last September because of ill health that had plagued him in recent years. Recently he had moved to Riverside for his health.

Mr. Prouty was much interested in yachting activities, being owner of a power cruiser, the Juanne, a familiar figure on the Astoria waterfront and in northwest waters.

He was for years an active member of the Astoria Yacht club and was commodore of the club in 1936.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Pearl Prouty of Riverside, Cal.; six daughters, Ruth and Patricia Prouty of Astoria, Virginia and Margaret Prouty of Riverside, Mrs. Julie Horton of Astoria and Mrs. Dorothy Haase of Concrete, Wash.; three sons, Raymond of Oregon State college, Gordon of Seaside and Keith of Astoria.

Funeral services will be announced later. The E. B. Hughes mortuary is in charge.

Widow of Prouty Mill Founder Succumbs at 84

Pearl Lydia Prouty, 84, a resident of Astoria for more than 50 years, died in an Astoria nursing home early Thursday afternoon. She had been a patient there for the past year.

She was born Sept. 25, 1884, in Bellingham, Wash., the daughter of Ambrose and Eunice Rogers. She received her education in Bellingham.

She was married to Arthur N. Prouty Sept. 18, 1904, in Bellingham. They lived in Mt. Vernon, Wash., for a short time following their marriage and then moved to Seaside where Prouty entered the lumber business. A few years later they established the Prouty Lumber Mill in Warrenton. Arthur Prouty died Feb. 8, 1939.

Surviving are six daughters Mrs. Frank (Margaret) Parker, Astoria; Ruth Prouty, Patricia Olsen, and Virginia Burnett, all of Portland; Dorothy Haase, Shelton, Wash.; and Mrs. Lester (June) Horton, Roseburg, Ore.; three sons Raymond A. Prouty, Shelton, Wash.; Gordon F. Prouty, Albany, Ore.; and Keith F. Prouty, San Francisco; 25 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren.

Information regarding service, which will be at the graveside in Ocean View Cemetery Monday at 1 p.m., is being announced by the Hughes-Ransom Mortuary.

Gordon F. Prouty

1915-1979

Gordon Francis Prouty, 64, Albany, died Friday in Albany.

Mr. Prouty was born Jan. 10, 1915, in Seaside. He grew up and was educated in the North Coast area, graduating from Astoria High School. He married Edwina Thomas on April 18, 1936, in Astoria. They had lived in the Carlton area, Eugene, and moved to Albany in 1964.

Survivors include his wife Edwina; four sons, Art, Gordon and John, all of Albany, and Steve, with the U.S. Navy in Norfolk, Va.; six daughters, Pauline McIntire and Linda Weaver, Eugene, Peggy Florance, Albany, Janet Weeks, Gresham, Kay Lent, Brentwood, Calif., and Dot Ferry, Anderson, Calif.; one brother, Ray, Shelton, Wash.; six sisters, Dorothy Haase, Shelton, Ruth Prouty, Pat Olson and Virginia Burnett, all of Portland, June Horton, Roseburg, and Peggy Parker, Astoria; and 29 grandchildren.

June Prouty Weds Lester Horton At Lovely Service

Miss June Prouty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Prouty of Astoria, became the bride of Lester Horton, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Horton also of this city, at a lovely ceremony held Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church with the Rev. P. M. Blenkinsop reading the services.

The church was lovely in decorations of greens and late summer flowers. Immediately preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Dan C. Hall sang "I Love You Truly" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told." Mrs. C. A. Read played the wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown, fashioned on the princess lines with a long train and small built-up collar. Her long white tulle veil was caught coronet style at the back of her head. She carried a lovely bride's bouquet of pale yellow rose buds and bouvardia.

Miss Patricia Prouty, sister of the bride, and maid of honor, wore a waltz blue satin gown, fitted on the basque style with a gathered waistline and short puff sleeves. The Misses Peggy and Virginia Prouty, sisters of the bride, were her bridesmaids, wearing similarly styled gowns of rose satin. The maid of honor carried a nosegay of pink sweetpeas and the bridesmaids carried similar nosegays of pale blue sweetpeas.

Best man for Mr. Horton was Eugene Mellison, cousin of the groom, of Seattle, Wash. Ushers for the wedding were Donald Goodall, Ray Prouty, George Peeke and Raymond Horton.

Mrs. A. N. Prouty wore a wine colored afternoon dress and a lovely corsage of gardenias and Mrs. Horton, a lovely black afternoon dress with a similar corsage.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the wedding. The bride's table was attractive with a large wedding cake set off with white tapers in silver candelabra. Miss Lucy Horton, sister of the groom, served the wedding cake and Mrs. Dorothy Haase and Miss Ruth Prouty poured. Assisting about the rooms was Miss Helen Horton.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home here in Astoria where Mr. Horton is employed by the Fisher Brothers Hardware company. For going away the bride wore a wine ensemble with a brown fur coat and brown accessories.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Margaret Prouty, Miss Gloria Prouty and Mrs. Thompson of Portland and Eugene Mellison of Seattle.

A. N. Prouty, Retired Mill Man, Passes

Arthur Newton Prouty, 55, member of the family which has operated the Prouty Lumber & Box company sawmill in Warrenton since 1922, died early Wednesday morning in Riverside, Cal., where he had been living for the past several months.

Mr. Prouty was born in 1881 in Lawton, Ia. In 1900 he came west to Bellingham, Wash., where he and his brothers operated a sawmill at the nearby town of Ferndale. He was married there to Pearl Rogene of Bellingham in 1905.

In 1912 the Proutys came to Seaside and established a sawmill there, later establishing the present Warrenton mill in 1922.

Mr. Prouty retired from business last September because of ill health that had plagued him in recent years. Recently he had moved to Riverside for his health.

Mr. Prouty was much interested in yachting activities, being owner of a power cruiser, the Joanne, a familiar figure on the Astoria waterfront and in northwest waters.

He was for years an active member of the Astoria Yacht club and was commodore of the club in 1936.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Pearl Prouty of Riverside, Cal.; six daughters, Ruth and Patricia Prouty of Astoria, Virginia and Margaret Prouty of Riverside; Mrs. June Horton of Astoria and Mrs. Dorothy Haase of Concrete, Wash.; three sons, Raymond of Oregon State college, Gordon of Seaside and Keith of Astoria.

Funeral services will be announced later. The M. B. Hughes mortuary is in charge.

Leaders in Sea Scout Work in Astoria

Growth of the Sea Scout unit, the S. S. S. Flying Cloud, at Astoria, has been largely due to the activities of these four persons. From left to right, R. G. Dalglish, chief clerk, who is secretary-treasurer of the ship committee; Lester Horton, son of R. A. Horton and able sea cook and bos'n; Joe Henningsen, serviceman who is the skipper of the ship, and Mr. Horton, committee member.

June Prouty Weds Lester Horton At Lovely Service

Miss June Prouty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Prouty of Astoria, became the bride of Lester Horton, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Horton also of this city, at a lovely ceremony held Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church with the Rev. P. M. Blenkinsop reading the services.

The church was lovely in decorations of greens and late summer flowers. Immediately preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Dan C. Hall sang "I Love You Truly" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told." Mrs. C. A. Reed played the wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown, fashioned on the princess lines with a long train and small built-up collar. Her long white tulle veil was caught coronet style at the back of her head. She carried a lovely bride's bouquet of pale yellow rose buds and bouvardia.

Miss Patricia Prouty, sister of the bride, and maid of honor, wore a waltz blue satin gown, fitted on the basque style with a gathered waistline and short puff sleeves. The Misses Peggy and Virginia Prouty, sisters of the bride, were her bridesmaids, wearing similarly styled gowns of rose satin. The maid of honor carried a nosegay of pink sweetpeas and the bridesmaids carried similar nosegays of pale blue sweetpeas.

Best man for Mr. Horton was Eugene Mellison, cousin of the groom, of Seattle, Wash. Ushers for the wedding were Donald Goodall, Ray Prouty, George Peeke and Raymond Horton.

Mrs. A. N. Prouty wore a wine colored afternoon dress and a lovely corsage of gardenias and Mrs. Horton, a lovely black afternoon dress with a similar corsage.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the wedding. The bride's table was attractive with a large wedding cake set off with white tapers in silver candelabra. Miss Lucy Horton, sister of the groom, served the wedding cake and Mrs. Dorothy Haase and Miss Ruth Prouty poured. Assisting about the rooms was Miss Helen Horton.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home here in Astoria where Mr. Horton is employed by the Fisher Brothers Hardware company. For going away the bride wore a wine ensemble with a brown fur coat and brown accessories.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Margaret Prouty, Miss Gloria Prouty and Mrs. Thompson of Portland and Eugene Mellison of Seattle.

Arthur Newton Prouty, 58, member of the family which has operated the Prouty Lumber & Box company sawmill in Warrenton since 1922, died early Wednesday morning in Riverside, Cal., where he had been living for the past several months.

Mr. Prouty was born in 1881 in Lawton, Ia. In 1900 he came west to Bellingham, Wash., where he and his brothers operated a sawmill at the nearby town of Ferndale. He was married there to Pearl Rogers of Bellingham in 1905.

In 1912 the Proutys came to Seaside and established a sawmill there, later establishing the present Warrenton mill in 1922.

Mr. Prouty retired from business last September because of ill health that had plagued him in recent years. Recently he had moved to Riverside for his health.

Mr. Prouty was much interested in yachting activities, being owner of a power cruiser, the Joanne, a familiar figure on the Astoria waterfront and in northwest waters.

He was for years an active member of the Astoria Yacht club and was commodore of the club in 1936.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Pearl Prouty of Riverside, Cal.; six daughters, Ruth and Patricia Prouty of Astoria, Virginia and Margaret Prouty of Riverside, Mrs. June Holton of Astoria and Mrs. Dorothy Haase of Concrete, Wash.; three sons, Raymond of Oregon State college, Gordon of Seaside and Keith of Astoria.

Funeral services will be announced later. The E. E. Hughes mortuary is in charge.

six-pound ten-ounce daughter, born at Columbia hospital today. At the same hospital today a seven-pound two-ounce daughter was born to

Peggy Prouty Tells Wedding Date At Shower

Mrs. Merwyn Olsen, Mrs. Lester Horton and Mrs. Ruth Prouty were hostesses Friday evening at the Prouty home for a bridal shower for Miss Peggy Prouty. During the evening Miss Prouty told friends of her engagement and approaching marriage to Frank Parker December 16.

Miss Prouty is the daughter of Mrs. Pearl L. Prouty and Mr. Parker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eben P. Parker. The bridegroom-to-be is a senior at Oregon State college and a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Games were in play during the evening with prizes going to Miss Betty Holst and Mrs. Fred Jensen. Clues concealed in poems in balloons about the rooms led the bride elect to the hidden gifts. Pink and white chrysanthemums were used about the rooms and centering the refreshment table was a large decorated cake topped with a miniature bride and groom under an arch.

Present were Mrs. Fay Hanks, Mrs. Leonard Donaldson and Mrs. Rose Edwards, all of Seaside; Mrs. Mary Knoblock, Mrs. Pearl Prouty, Mrs. Ed Thomas, Mrs. Orville Nygaard, Mrs. Davis Danielson, Mrs. Fred Jensen, Mrs. Howard Parker, Mrs. Eino Juola, Mrs. Bud Christensen, Mrs. Charles Ordway, Mrs. Eben Parker, Miss Muriel Nygaard, Miss Betty Holst, Miss Virginia Prouty, the hostesses, Mrs. Olsen, Mrs. Horton and Miss Prouty, and the guest of honor, Miss Peggy Prouty.

Peggy Prouty; Frank Parker Pledge Vows

A beautiful candlelight ceremony read Wednesday evening at the First Methodist church united in marriage Miss Margaret Ann Prouty, daughter of Mrs. Pearl I. Prouty, and Frank F. Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eben P. Parker, all of Astoria. Rev. R. A. Fedge officiated in a setting of white chrysanthemums, palms and greens at 7:30 o'clock.

Preceding the service Mrs. Lester Horton and Mrs. Mervin Olsen lighted the tapers and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hall sang "Because" and "I Love You, Truly." Accompanying them at the organ was Mrs. C. A. Reed, who also played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Gordon Prouty. She wore a traditional white satin gown with full skirt, fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline. Her fingertip veil was caught in a tiara of seed pearls and she wore her mother's gold locket. Her flowers were Tahaman roses centered with an orchid.

Miss Virginia Prouty was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a pink gown with bouffant net skirt and taffeta bodice and carried a nosegay of roses. Acting as best man was George Zellick and ushers were Davis Danielsen and Joe Day.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's mother. White and yellow chrysanthemums were about the rooms and centering the bride's table was a three-tiered wedding cake topped with pink roses and a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. John Chisholm poured and Mrs. Lester Horton cut the cake. Assisting were Mrs. Gordon Prouty and Miss Ruth Prouty. In charge of the guest book was Miss Betty Holt.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Prouty wore a blue velvet afternoon dress with blue accessories and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Parker, wore a black afternoon dress with matching accessories. Both had corsages of pink rosebuds.

After a wedding trip down the coast, Mr. and Mrs. Parker will make their home in Corvallis, where Mr. Parker is attending Oregon State college.

For traveling Mrs. Parker wore a brown dressmaker suit with brown fur coat and accessories and an orchid corsage.

Out of town guests here for the wedding were Mrs. Leonard Donaldson and daughter, Evelyn Marie, and Mrs. Fay Hanks of Seaside, George Zellick, Paul Evenson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Day, Bill McGinnis and Paul Johnson, all of Corvallis, Mrs. Leonard Gedenberg of Kelso, Mrs. H. McAdam of Rainier and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Prouty and family of Carlton, Ore.

Woman Found Safe By Scouts

Doris Chamberlain, 25, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frickey of Youngs Bay district, was found at noon today several miles from her home after she had been wandering in the woods all night. A group of Sea Scouts and Boy Scouts led by Lester Horton found the young woman who apparently suffered no ill effects from her night in the woods.

State police also assisted in the search.

Heavily wooded hills south of Lewis and Clark consolidated school were being combed today by Sea Scouts, older Boy Scouts Sheriff Paul Kearney, Deputy Sheriff Myron Jones and other volunteers for 25-year-old Doris Chamberlain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frickey.

The young woman, who has been ill for some time, left her parents home in the Youngs' Bay district Sunday afternoon and was seen by friends walking along a wooded path. She was wearing pink slacks and a blue sweater. When last seen she was at the reservoir on the Lewis and Clark trail. She is 5 foot 5 inches in height and weighs about 100 pounds.

Searchers Out

A searching party was out all Sunday night but no signs of the missing girl were found. Authorities fear that she has become ill and is stranded someplace in the dense woods. This area has been logged over and slash which was never removed or burned, together with a heavy second growth of hemlock makes the going difficult.

Help of the scouts was enlisted by Sheriff Kearney this morning and a group of 25, wearing boots and heavy clothing and carrying axes and hatchets, were taken to the district to join in the search. The group was to be divided in two parties. Leading the boys are Lester Horton, Charles Anderson, Bob Kendall and Bob Kearney.

Junior Class

The junior class of '32 is an original and peppy bunch of fishers who have taken a lively interest in all school projects.

During the fall term the juniors won the pennant given to the peppiest class in the interclass pep rally, and, in the spring term, they were voted the best group in the song contest.

On January 15, their play "The Family Upstairs," was given in the A. H. S. auditorium, and was proclaimed one of the best ever presented by Astoria high school students. Then reception for the seniors, the Junior Prom, was a lovely spring treat.

The versatility of talent in this class promises the members a successful senior year.

GRADUATION'S RITUAL HELD

83 Pupils Get Diplomas At Annual Rites

With Dr. Norman F. Coleman, Portland, president of Reed college, delivering the principal address, commencement exercises for 83 graduating seniors were held at the Astoria high school auditorium last night. A large crowd of friends and parents overflowed the auditorium, and crowded the gymnasium immediately after the exercises were over to congratulate the young graduates.

"Education for Our Own Times" was the topic for Coleman's address. He traced the progress of education during the past nine years through prosperity and depression and compared the present educational status with that of ancient times. It was the speaker's expressed idea that the reason for cultural development during ancient times was the large amount of leisure time.

Awards Announced.

E. D. Towler, principal of Astoria high school, made the announcement of awards. Miss Frances Cole was awarded the biology cup for outstanding work in that subject and Miss Lucille Hoagland received the Business and Professional Women's cup for outstanding work in civics. Miss Marjorie Gearhart and Edward Utzinger were announced as the outstanding seniors. Those selected as outstanding juniors were Miss Florence Elliott and Kermit Gimre.

It was announced that the students receiving permanent possession of the Torch, honor award, were Don Dayton, Marjorie Gearhart, Hester Howard, Lucille Hoagland, Tom Hayashi, Irene Julian, Viola Jensen, Donald Landwehr, Bertha Soderman, Estelle Thorn-

June Prouty Weds Lester Horton At Lovely Service

Miss June Prouty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Prouty of Astoria, became the bride of Lester Horton, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Horton also of this city, at a lovely ceremony held Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church with the Rev. P. M. Blenkinsop reading the services.

The church was lovely in decorations of greens and late summer flowers. Immediately preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Dan C. Hall sang "I Love You Truly" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told." Mrs. C. A. Reed played the wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown, fashioned on the princess lines with a long train and small built-up collar. Her long white tulle veil was caught coronet style at the back of her head. She carried a lovely bride's bouquet of pale yellow rose buds and bouvardia.

Miss Patricia Prouty, sister of the bride, and maid of honor, wore a waltz blue satin gown, fitted on the basque style with a gathered waistline and short puff sleeves. The Misses Peggy and Virginia Prouty, sisters of the bride, were her bridesmaids, wearing similarly styled gowns of rose satin. The maid of honor carried a nosegay of pink sweetpeas and the bridesmaids carried similar nosegays of pale blue sweetpeas.

Best man for Mr. Horton was Eugene Mellison, cousin of the groom, of Seattle, Wash. Ushers for the wedding were Donald Goodall, Ray Prouty, George Peeke and Raymond Horton.

Mrs. A. N. Prouty wore a wine colored afternoon dress and a lovely corsage of gardenias and Mrs. Horton, a lovely black afternoon dress with a similar corsage.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the wedding. The bride's table was attractive with a large wedding cake set off with white tapers in silver candelabra. Miss Lucy Horton, sister of the groom, served the wedding cake and Mrs. Dorothy Haase and Miss Ruth Prouty poured. Assisting about the rooms was Miss Helen Horton.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home here in Astoria where Mr. Horton is employed by the Fisher Brothers Hardware company. For going away the bride wore a wine ensemble with a brown fur coat and brown accessories.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Margaret Prouty, Miss Gloria Prouty and Mrs. Thompson of Portland and Eugene Mellison of Seattle.

Junior Class

The junior class of '33 is an original and peppy bunch of fishers who have taken a lively interest in all school projects.

During the fall term the juniors won the pennant given to the peppiest class in the interclass pep rally, and, in the spring term, they were voted the best group in the song contest.

On January 13, their play, "The Family Upstairs," was given in the A. H. S. auditorium, and was proclaimed one of the best ever presented by Astoria high school students. Their reception for the seniors, the Junior Prom, was a lovely spring affair.

The versatility of talent in this class promises the members a successful senior year.

Miss Thomas And Mr. Prouty Marry At Ritual Today

Charming in its simplicity was the wedding ceremony of Miss Edwina Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Thomas of this city, and Gordon Prouty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Prouty, also of this city in the St. Mary's church, Saturday, April 18 at 1 o'clock, with Father Munnane officiating.

The bride, lovely in a white satin gown made with princess lines and a long tulle veil trimmed with lace, was given away by her father. She carried a cascade bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Jessie Thomas, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was charming in a yellow net gown and carried a bouquet of Tallman rosebuds.

Ray Prouty, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. A. J. Antonich.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home for relatives and close friends.

After a short wedding trip the couple will make their home in Astoria.

For a going away outfit, the bride wore a blue suit with dark blue accessories.

The bride is a graduate of the Star of the Sea school and the groom of the Astoria high school.

A. N. Prouty, Retired Mill Man, Passes

Arthur Newton Prouty, 58, member of the family which has operated the Prouty Lumber & Box company sawmill in Warrenton since 1922, died early Wednesday morning in Riverside, Cal., where he had been living for the past several months.

Mr. Prouty was born in 1881 in Lawton, Ia. In 1900 he came west to Bellingham, Wash., where he and his brothers operated a sawmill at the nearby town of Ferndale. He was married there to Pearl Rogers of Bellingham in 1905.

In 1912 the Proutys came to Seaside and established a sawmill there, later establishing the present Warrenton mill in 1922.

Mr. Prouty retired from business last September because of ill health that had plagued him in recent years. Recently he had moved to Riverside for his health.

Mr. Prouty was much interested in yachting activities, being owner of a power cruiser, the Joanne, a familiar figure on the Astoria waterfront and in northwest waters.

He was for years an active member of the Astoria Yacht club and was commodore of the club in 1936.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Pearl Prouty of Riverside, Cal.; six daughters, - Ruth and Patricia Prouty of Astoria, Virginia and Margaret Prouty of Riverside, Mrs. June Horton of Astoria and Mrs. Dorothy Haase of Concrete, Wash.; three sons, Raymond of Oregon State college, Gordon of Seaside and Keith of Astoria.

Funeral services will be announced later. The E. B. Hughes mortuary is in charge.

Thomas-Hurd Rites Said At Nine O'Clock

In a 9 o'clock ceremony solemnized in the St. Mary's Catholic church this morning, Miss Jessie Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Thomas of this city, became the bride of Luke Hurd, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Hurd of Portland. The Rev. John Laidlaw read the service before the altar decked with pink and white snapdragons, with members of the family and close friends present.

The bride wore a delphinium blue dressmaker suit, with dusty rose and beige accessories and an orchid corsage.

Miss Patricia Prouty was the bride's only attendant, and wore a powder green dressmaker suit and a corsage of gardenias.

Andrew O'Neil of Portland acted as best man for Mr. Hurd.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Marcella Malagamba sang "Ave Marie" accompanied by Mrs. A. J. Antonich, who also played the wedding march.

Interview with Edwina Prouty

My Grandmother's full name at birth was Edwina Isabelle Thomas, however, she legally changed her name when she was confirmed at St. Mary's Church to Edwina Pauline Thomas. No one knows of her birth name, not even her children!! She was born August 21, 1916 in Warrenton, OR. She lived in Astoria at 547 11th St. and attended St. Mary's Church. She attended Star of the Sea, a Catholic school, and graduated in 1934. She married Gordon Prouty, who lived across the street from her, in 1936. Together they had 12 children, 10 surviving (Pauline, Cathleen, Arthur, Linda, Dorothy, Peggy, Patrick, Steve, Janet, & John) 1-stillborn and 1-died as an infant (not sure how I haven't asked her about this child). One of the deceased babies was a boy which is buried in a cemetery outside of McMinnville, OR.

Grandma's parents were Edward & Sarah (Tetlow) Thomas. Sarah was born on April 14, 1895 in Highwood, IL, (a few miles from Chicago). She was 5 or 6 years old when they left Chicago and went to Portland by train, then Astoria by boat. She married Edward on August 11, 1913 in Warrenton, OR. Sarah's father was Zachariah Tetlow, an only child born in Lancaster, England. He came to the US when he was 10 years old. He lived in Chicago and worked as a landscape gardener for Chicago Parks. He then left Chicago because of union troubles and went to Highwood, IL. He then moved to Hammond, OR and worked for the government as a plumber at Fort Stevens. He married a woman with the last name of Curly, she came from Ballycastle, a village in Northern Ireland. She left Ballycastle in the 1860's with her brothers after their father remarried, (the kids didn't care for their stepmother). They came to Chicago, IL where she later met Zack and together they had 4 kids: Zack Jr., Allen, Sarah and Mae.

Edward Thomas was born on May 30, 1891 in Marshall, Missouri. He had 2 brothers, Charlie and Bill, and 2 sisters, Ida and Myrtle all of which lived in and around Aberdeen, WA. His family came from Joplin Missouri (his mother was born there). When Ed was 8 or 9 years old they moved to the Dalles for a while then moved to Warrenton. He married Sarah Tetlow on August 14, 1913. He had 2 teams of horses, one team was named Bill & Doll, which he used to deliver meats. He would meet the train and haul stuff to its destination and on occasion he would haul caskets from the train to the cemetery. Ed moved to Astoria during the 1st world war where he worked in the shipyards. After the war he worked for Ed Edner in a garage, then went to work as a foreman at Lowell Auto and then he opened his own service station and garage named "Thomas Auto Repair" it was located across from where the ferry used to be. Together Ed and Sarah had 3 daughters, Jesse, Vi, and Edwina.

My Grandfather's name was Gordon Prouty born January 10, 1915 in Seaside, OR. He attended Astoria High where he graduated in 1933. He grew up across the street from Edwina on 11th street in Astoria. (Not sure of the address but it is a large two story house presently painted yellow and facing the River, there is a house in front of now but it used to be the entire corner lot there). He worked with his father and brothers at the Prouty Lumber & Box Company and later bought a farm in Carlton, OR where he built his own home and farmed. He died of a heart attack in 1979.

Gordon's parents were Arthur Newton Prouty and Lydia Pearl (Rogers) Prouty. Arthur was born in April 1881 (or 1882) in Sioux City, Iowa. He was an owner of Prouty Lumber & Box Company which began business in 1922 in Warrenton, OR. His obituary reads:

A. N. Prouty, Retired Mill Man, Passes

Arthur Newton Prouty, 56, member of the family which has operated the Prouty Lumber & Box company sawmill in Warrenton since 1922, died early Wednesday morning in Riverside, CA., where he had been living for the past several months.

Mr. Prouty was born in 1881 in Lawton, IA. In 1900 he came west to Bellingham, WA., where he and his brothers operated a sawmill at the nearby town of Ferndale. He was married there to Pearl Rogers of Bellingham in 1905.

In 1912 the Prouty's came to Seaside and established a sawmill there, re-establishing the present Warrenton mill in 1922.

Mr. Prouty retired from business last September because of ill health that had plagued him in recent years. Recently he had moved to Riverside for his health.

Mr. Prouty was much interested in yachting activities, being owner of a power cruiser, the Joanne, a familiar figure on the Astoria waterfront and in northwest waters.

He was for years an active member of the Astoria Yacht club and was commodore of the club in 1936.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Pearl Prouty of Riverside, CA.; six daughters, Ruth and Patricia Prouty of Astoria, Virginia and Margaret Prouty of Riverside, Mrs. June Horton of Astoria and Mrs. Dorothy Haase of Concrete, WA.; three sons, Raymond of Oregon State College, Gordon of Seaside and Keith of Astoria.

Funeral services will be announced later. The E. B. Hughes mortuary is in charge.

Arthur's father was James Albert Prouty, no one remembers his mother's name, she died in 1908 or 1909 and James died in 1915. They had 13 or 14 children all born in Iowa. Nine survived, including Arthur, they were:

Bert (James Albert), who married a girl named Nell that died of pneumonia about a year later. He worked in Portland where he later married Margaret. They had 2 children, Gloria & Stanley. He died of a heart attack around the age of 55 (Stanley was about 5 or 6 at the time). Stanley also had open heart surgery later in life from a heart attack.

Here is something my Grandmother had in with her memorabilia. Some of it may be redundant but I will send it to you as written anyhow, it was written in 1984 so some of the people have since passed:

Arthur Newton Prouty was born April 7, 1880 on a farm 70 miles from Souix City, Iowa. His father raised corn, cattle and hogs. The cattle were shipped from Iowa to Chicago by train. One time Arthur rode with the cattle to the Chicago Stockyards. A memorable occasion for any young farm boy. Arthur had 12 brothers and sisters, four of which died before the age of six. One brother died in a tragic accident. At age five the boy had gone into the barn to find his pet chicken. He lit a match which caught the hay on fire and burned the boy to death. At an earlier age this boy had drunk a glass of liquid lye, mistaking it for water, and had severely singed his throat. He was unable to speak from that day. Lye was used often in cleaning but the packaging was not yet so stringent as to demand warning and poisoning labels. The surviving children were James, Emory, Walter, Arthur, Frederick, Frank, Stella, Hilda and Blanche Prouty.

When Arthur was 19 years old (1899) his family and three of his uncles and their families moved to Bellingham, WA. There, Arthur attended engineering school and was employed by Northern Railroad Co. It was here in Bellingham that he met Lydia Pearl Rogers.

Lydia, alter known as Pearl, was born in Bellingham, the third child of Ambrose A. and Eunice (Markham) Rogers. Ambrose was from English decent. H was from New York and had served in the Civil War. He injured the instep of his foot in the war and was on crutches for the following six years. He was a salesman at age 40 when he married Eunice Markham. Eunice was also from New York. The couple moved to Kansas after their marriage in 1876.

Life must have been hard in Kansas. They had three children while in Kansas, two of which died before they were three weeks old. Within six years Ambrose left his wife in Kansas with their son Roy while he went to search for better employment opportunities. He sent for his wife and child and relocated the family in Bellingham, WA. Here Lydia Pearl was born on September 27, 1884.

The family lived on Lake Whateon near Bellingham. This was wild country. Cougars would steal their chickens during the night. Indians were also present. The family moved into town. Eunice Rogers was in constant fear of the animals and Indians. She died of a stroke in 1893, at age 50, which may have been brought on due to her constant state of fear and the fact that her husband was often away from home on business.

Pearl Rogers was nine years old when her mother died. She became caretaker for her older brother Roy and her father. A neighbor taught Pearl how to clean, cook and mend. This she did until her marriage to Arthur Prouty.

Arthur and Pearl were married in 1905 in Bellingham, WA. Her father Ambrose resented her marriage as he lot his housekeeper. Their first child, Dorothy Eunice was born a year later on August 8, 1906 in Mt. Vernon, WA. Their second child, Eva Fern was born January 4, 1908 but died of pneumonia six months later in June, 1908. Their third child, Ruth Mildred was born on February 4, 1909 while the family was still in Bellingham. After Ruth's birth, Arthur went into the sawmill business with his brothers Albert (Bert) and Frederick (Fred). They moved to Ferndale, WA in 1911. There, child number four, June Athea was born on May 29, 1911. Raymond Arthur was also born in Ferndale on February 24, 1913.

In 1913 the brothers heard of a good Isle of timber located near Seaside, OR. They relocated their mill. The family traveled by train and by ferry across the Columbia River. The mill prospered during World War I by cutting Spruce which was used for building airplanes. The wood was light-weight and strong. After the war, the mill was moved to Warrenton, OR to take advantage of the water routes there.

Five more children were born while the family lived in Seaside. This made nine children in the Prouty family. These younger siblings are, Gordon Franks, born on January 10, 1915, Frederick Keith, April 13, 1916, Patricia Jean, July 20, 1911, Virginia Louis, November 22, 1918 and Margaret Ann (Peggy), April 7, 1920. Dr. Hagman and Mary Knoblock, a neighboring mid-wife assisted in the birth of each child.

The Prouty family lived in Seaside, OR from 1914 to 1928. Seaside is located in the northwestern-most corner of Oregon along the Pacific Ocean. The explorers, Lewis and Clark, constructed salt cairns here to extract the salt from the ocean water. When the Prouty's moved to Seaside, the sidewalks were made of clam shells and wood. There was a boardwalk along the ocean and a pier extended from the prom of town into the ocean. It was strictly a summer resort town. There were many tourists in town during the summer months and very few people in the winter.

For entertainment the children played on the beach quite often. They would also hike different hills in the area. One hike they enjoyed was the route from Bald Mountain to Indian Beach. The family took long drives and would have a picnic (weather permitting) each Sunday. The children also enjoyed roller skating and going to movies. The children played with friends from school. The younger children walked a few blocks to grade school and the older ones, Ruth, June and Dot, walked a mile to high school.

They rented their home from 1914 until they bought a house in 1920. They later rented out their home when the family moved 16 miles northeast to Astoria, Oregon in 1928. Astoria is a fishing and logging community located on the Columbia River. Arthur Prouty felt that the education and vocation opportunities were better for his children here than in Seaside. In Astoria they lived in two different homes. Both were large with spacious living areas and kitchens. There were approximately one child per room since some of the older children had already moved out.

The Prouty family was a close, well respected family in the community. They would partake in family projects. One project was to make a family quilt. Each person had their own square for which they were responsible. They would also write a family newspaper to those family members who were not at home. The newspaper included jokes, riddles, and descriptions of what each one was doing. Everyone contributed to the paper.

Holidays followed all of the traditions. Celebrations were with immediate family. Little was seen of relatives other than the two uncles involved in the business. Once cousins from New York visited the family. They had driven their Model T across the country. The family had huge dinners and kept all the Christmas traditions. They all helped to pick the tree which their father would later make perfect by grafting limbs to and from certain parts of the tree. The youngest, Peggy, would sometimes have a fit if things were not done "just right".

The physical stature of the family can be summarized in two words - short and small. Arthur Prouty wore a man's size 6 1/2 shoe. Often he had to buy boys' shoe. Pearl was of average height. The girls in the family averaged approximately 4'10" to 5'2" tall and wore shoe sized of 3 to 5. The boys were a little taller - 5'4" to 5'8" tall. They had straight, dark hair. They were a close family but still had their distinct differences. Ruth and Ray are said to have argued a lot. Ray is also said to have had a habit of expounding long words of which he may not have even known the meaning. June and Dot "ran the roost" and took the caretaker roles of the younger children. Pat and Peg were active and athletic. Virginia is artistic (Virginia still paints today. She gives her work as presents but doesn't sell them).

Family responsibilities were clearly designated. Arthur Prouty took care of his family's finances. Neither his wife nor his children were informed of their financial situation. When the boys were older they worked in the mill. Dorothy also worked in the broom handle shop of the mill during high school. None of the children were encouraged to learn the business. The family chores were designated as follows: from age six and up, the boys collected firewood. Gordon cared for the chickens. From age five to seven, girls did the dishes and those eight and older did all household chores: cleaning, beds, cooking, etc. The girls felt that the boys were "spoiled" and would sometimes neglect to do their chores in which case, the girls did them. By the time that the older girls were 16 to 20 years old, their mother was severely ill with Multiple Sclerosis. The older girls still living at home, Ruth and June, were primarily responsible for the care of the younger ones, Pat, Virginia and Peg. Conflicts arose between sisters. The younger ones did not like being told what to do by their older siblings.

the Prouty children were active. After moving to Astoria, the boys spent a lot of time on the river. Ray enjoyed fishing, he still does today, and both he and Gordon enjoyed sailing. They built a sailboat which they named the Ginnie Lou, after their sister Virginia. They raced the boat in the annual Astoria Regatta. Keith enjoyed playing basketball but was always too short to make the team. Gordon had a paper route for which he would borrow his sister Dorothy's car, an Austin. He would drive while his younger sister, Peg, folded and threw the papers out from the back of the car. The girls enjoyed hiking, biking, sailing with their brothers, skating and playing baseball.

Pearl Prouty was a member of the Pythian Sisters Lodge and her husband was a member of the Knights of Pythias. Pearl was also in a quilting club and Arthur was a gun club member. When they entertained guests in their home the children were kept in the background and did not participate. Occasionally Arthur played pinochle at the lumber mill until late at night. He never drank or smoked, but he did chew tobacco. His favorite hobby was driving the car. As a result, the family went on many long Sunday outings. His first automobile was a Model T purchased in 1914.

He exchanged this car for other makes. His favorite was the Studebaker of which he drove many models. He taught his daughter, Dorothy, to drive when she was 18 years old. She learned on the Sheriff model which "was too large for her but she managed." She still enjoys driving today at age 78. As a family, the Prouty's enjoyed picnics, camping trips, summer long boat trips in the Puget Sound and later, annual or semi-annual reunions.

The Prouty family held together and remained close during a crisis. During the Depression, Arthur Prouty put all of the money back into the mill. The family had to go without but "in a family of nine children, there was not much there to begin with." There were not enough clothes for the children. Peg walked to school with the soles of her shoes flapping as she went. The mill workers were paid promptly. The family coped well and has placed no great importance on material possessions.

A personal crisis endured by the family was the death of their grandfather Ambrose. Ambrose Rogers homesteaded south of Seaside in Myrtle Creek, Oregon for two years. He later bought a home near his daughter Pearl's family. He walked frequently and when necessary, hired his neighbor to drive him in his car. When the Prouty's moved to Astoria, Ambrose remained in Seaside. Dorothy cared for him for two years after completing her nurses training at Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland, OR. He was 97 years old when he died on August 1, 1933 in Seaside.

The other personal crises affecting the family was the illnesses of both their mother and father. Pearl had M.S. Everyone shared the problem and helped to do what they could for her. Arthur retired from the mill in 1935 at age 52, due to his health problem. He sold out to his brother-in-law Theodore Dichter. They spent winters in Riverside, California for Pearl's sake and the summers were spent on Arthur's yacht in the Puget Sound.

All of the children attended school in Seaside and/or Astoria. All graduated from Astoria High School except Dot, Ruth and June, who graduated from Seaside High. Both boys and girls attended college. It was equally important for each but perhaps for different reasons. The boys attended school for vocational purposes while the girls may have done so for the "status or social aspects." Ray attended Oregon State University for four years studying engineering. Pat also attended OSU; she spent one year studying Home Economics. Virginia studied Fine Arts for a year at the University of Oregon. June attended the same school as her mother - Bellingham Normal School for Teaching for one year. Dot graduated from the nursing program she attended. Schooling did not play a large role in their adult vocations.

The technological advances used by the family were mainly the phonograph, radio and their car. Most of the children were married by the time television was accessible. Their phonograph was a hand-cranked machine with flat records. The radio was purchased when it became affordable. The family was drawn closer as they would all gather together to listen to it. The car was used for family outings as well as for transportation for business purposes.

The Prouty's were not a real active family politically. Arthur was a Democrat but said to have thought more like a Republican. He enjoyed arguing political points. Dominant political figures during the family's days were Franklin D. Roosevelt and Herbert Hoover.

Astoria was limited in education and vocational opportunities. (Even though it was larger than Seaside) Many family members moved out of Astoria but remained relatively close, three to five hours driving. There were no other relatives in the area. Dot married Herman Haase, a light house tender and logger on September 18, 1932. They moved around and eventually settled on a ranch in western Washington. June married Lester Horton, a real estate manager in September 1937. They remained in Astoria for 13 years until a job opportunity convinced them to move to Roseburg, OR. Gordon became a machinist and married Edwina Thomas in 1935. They lived in Seaside (in their parents rental) and later in Carlton, OR. Ruth remained single and is a clerical worker/bookkeeper. Keith was a factory worker. He moved around after high school. Pat is also a clerical worker/word processor. She married Merv Olson, a carpenter. They lived in Astoria and later moved to Portland, OR. Virginia is a publications worker. She was married to a Roy Burnett for about ten years before they were divorced.

After Peg's high school graduation in 1939, she went to Riverside, California to live with her mother, father and sister Virginia. The day after she arrived, February 8, 1939, Arthur Prouty died quietly in his sleep. He was 54 years old. The women returned to Astoria where they lived with their mother and friend Mary Knoblock who took care of their mother who was in a wheelchair.

Stella, who married John Joseph, they lived in Sioux City, Iowa and had 6 children

Frank, who married Belle They had 2 children, Lillian and Harold Frank died when he was 80 years old

Emery, who married Eva Baldwin They lived in Winlock (??), WA. They had 2 children, Joanne and Melvin.

Fred, who married Hilda. He drowned not long after.

The family had a farm in Iowa which they sold when Arthur was 19 and they moved to Bellingham, WA Several of Arthur's uncles also moved out to Bellingham, they all had large families so there was quite a population of Prouty's in that area James remarried to a widow with two minister daughters

Arthur's mother, Lydia Pearl (Rogers) Prouty (went by Pearl), was born September 25, 1884 in Bellingham, WA She died July 31, 1969 in Astoria, OR Her services were at grave side, Ocean View Cemetery in Warrenton, OR on Monday, August 4, 1969 - 1.00 pm Officiating was Rev. A. N. Prouty, Retired Mill Man, Passes

Arthur Newton Prouty, 58, member of the family which has operated the Prouty Lumber & Box company sawmill in Warrenton since 1922, died early Wednesday morning in Riverside, Cal., where he had been living for the past several months.

Mr. Prouty was born in 1881 in Lawton, Ia. In 1900 he came west to Bellingham, Wash., where he and his brothers operated a sawmill at the nearby town of Ferndale. He was married there to Pearl Rogers of Bellingham in 1905.

In 1912 the Proutys came to Seaside and established a sawmill there, later establishing the present Warrenton mill in 1922.

Mr. Prouty retired from business last September because of ill health that had plagued him in recent years. Recently he had moved to Riverside for his health.

Mr. Prouty was much interested in yachting activities, being owner of a power cruiser, the Joanne, a familiar figure on the Astoria waterfront and in northwest waters.

He was for years an active member of the Astoria Yacht club and was commodore of the club in 1936.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Pearl Prouty of Riverside, Cal., six daughters, Ruth and Patricia Prouty of Astoria, Virginia and Margaret Prouty of Riverside, Mrs. Jamie Horton of Astoria and Mrs. Dorothy Haase of Concrete, Wash., three sons, Raymond of Oregon State college, Gordon of Seaside and Keith of Astoria.

Funeral services will be announced later. The E. B. Hughes mortuary is in charge.

Local Yacht, Skipper Join

—Keith Prouty, owner of the 36 foot pleasure cruiser Joan of Astoria, has donated his vessel's services to the coast guard for duration of the war and has enlisted himself as skipper of the boat with the 1st class petty officer's rating of machinist's mate first class.

Prouty has had much experience with the operation of this boat and other craft around the Columbia estuary. The Joan was built by his father, the late Arthur N. Prouty, several years ago, and has done much cruising both on the Columbia and in Puget sound waters.

As crew of the boat with Prouty will be Walter Dahl, coxswain's mate, who has been in the coast guard service in this district a year and a half.

The Joan will be in service out of the Portland coast guard base.

Christ Chapel Prouty-Burnett Wedding Scene

Calla lilies and spirea decorated Christ chapel of the First Methodist church Friday, May 21, for the wedding of Miss Virginia Louise Prouty, daughter of Mrs. Pearl L. Prouty of Astoria, and Classen Roy Burnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus L. Burnett, also of this city. Rev. R. A. Fedje performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Gordon Prouty. She wore a beige afternoon dress with pink hat with matching veil and brown accessories. Her corsage was of orchids.

Miss Betty Holst was maid of honor. She wore a powder blue afternoon dress with matching accessories and a corsage of sweet peas and yellow rosebuds. Merwin Olson acted as best man and Lester Holton was usher.

Preceding the ceremony the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Harold Avery, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Stone Kinney. Mrs. Kinney played the wedding music.

Mrs. Pearl Prouty chose for her daughter's wedding a blue chiffon velvet afternoon dress and Mrs. R. L. Burnett, the bridegroom's mother, wore a cream wool afternoon dress. Both had corsages of gardenias.

Members of the immediate families attended the wedding and reception which followed at the home of the bride's mother. A bowl of white snapdragons flanked by white tapers centered the tea table. Miss Ruth Prouty poured and Mrs. Merwin Olson cut the wedding cake. Out of town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Prouty of Carlton, Keith Prouty of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parker of Corvallis.

The couple left for a short wedding trip down the coast and upon their return will be at home at the Home apartments. For traveling Mrs. Burnett wore a moss green suit with brown accessories and a beige topcoat.

Class History

• The class of '36 experienced the usual maltreatment given to entering Sophomores. They proved their pep and vitality in the Sophomore masquerade party in October. As Juniors they became outstanding by winning the pep rally and with it the pep pennant. The Junior year was climaxed with the Junior play, "The Yellow Shadow."

Entering their high and mighty Senior year, this class selected for its class colors, black and silver, and for its motto, "Small but Mighty." The dramatic production, "You're Telling Me!" is by far the outstanding event. The Senior banquet at the Ocean House was followed by class day, and baccalaureate. The final step, graduation, was reached with Dr. Baxter, President of Willamette University, giving the commencement address.

June Prouty Weds Lester Horton At Lovely Service

Miss June Prouty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Prouty of Astoria, became the bride of Lester Horton, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Horton also of this city, at a lovely ceremony held Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church with the Rev. P. M. Blenkinsop reading the services.

The church was lovely in decorations of greens and late summer flowers. Immediately preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Dan C. Hall sang "I Love You Truly" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told." Mrs. C. A. Reed played the wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown, fashioned on the princess lines with a long train and small built-up collar. Her long white tulle veil was caught coronet style at the back of her head. She carried a lovely bride's bouquet of pale yellow rose buds and bouvardia.

Miss Patricia Prouty, sister of the bride, and maid of honor, wore a waltz blue satin gown, fitted on the basque style with a gathered waistline and short puff sleeves. The Misses Peggy and Virginia Prouty, sisters of the bride, were her bridesmaids, wearing similarly styled gowns of rose satin. The maid of honor carried a nosegay of pink sweetpeas and the bridesmaids carried similar nosegays of pale blue sweetpeas.

Best man for Mr. Horton was Eugene Mellison, cousin of the groom, of Seattle, Wash. Ushers for the wedding were Donald Goodall, Ray Prouty, George Peeke and Raymond Horton.

Mrs. A. N. Prouty wore a wine colored afternoon dress and a lovely corsage of gardenias and Mrs. Horton, a lovely black afternoon dress with a similar corsage.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the wedding. The bride's table was attractive with a large wedding cake set off with white tapers in silver candelabra. Miss Lucy Horton, sister of the groom, served the wedding cake and Mrs. Dorothy Haase and Miss Ruth Prouty poured. Assisting about the rooms was Miss Helen Horton.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home here in Astoria where Mr. Horton is employed by the Fisher Brothers Hardware company. For going away the bride wore a wine ensemble with a brown fur coat and brown accessories.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Margaret Prouty, Miss Gloria Prouty and Mrs. Thompson of Portland and Eugene Mellison of Seattle.

In 1912 the Proutys came to Seaside and established a sawmill there, later establishing the present Warrenton mill in 1922.

Mr. Prouty retired from business last September because of ill health that had plagued him in recent years. Recently he had moved to Riverside for his health.

Mr. Prouty was much interested in yachting activities, being owner of a power cruiser, the Joanne, a familiar figure on the Astoria waterfront and in northwest waters.

He was for years an active member of the Astoria Yacht club and was commodore of the club in 1936.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Pearl Prouty of Riverside, Cal., six daughters, Ruth and Patricia Prouty of Astoria, Virginia and Margaret Prouty of Riverside, Mrs. Jane Horton of Astoria and Mrs. Dorothy Haase of Concrete, Wash., three sons, Raymond of Oregon State college, Gordon of Seaside and Kenneth of Astoria.

Funeral services will be announced later. The E. B. Hughes mortuary is in charge.

In a 9 o'clock ceremony solemnized in the St. Mary's Catholic church this morning, Miss Jessie Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Thomas of this city, became the bride of Luke Hurd, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Hurd of Portland. The Rev. John Laidlaw read the service before the altar decked with pink and white snapdragons, with members of the family and close friends present.

The bride wore a delphinium blue dressmaker suit, with dusty rose and beige accessories and an orchid corsage.

Miss Patricia Prouty was the bride's only attendant, and wore a powder green dressmaker suit and a corsage of gardenias.

Andrew O'Neil of Portland acted as best man for Mr. Hurd.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Marcella Malagamba sang "Ave Marie" accompanied by Mrs. A. J. Antonich, who also played the wedding march.

A wedding breakfast at the Astoria hotel followed the service. Covers were laid at the table centered with a large wedding cake and white spring flowers for Dr. and Mrs. Burl Betzer, Mr. and Mrs. Wendel Weddle, Mrs. W. H. Sims, Miss Doris Sims, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hurd, Andrew O'Neill, and James Fairweather, all of Portland, Mrs. A. H. Tetlow and Miss Mary Anna Bosshart of Warrenton, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Thomas, Mrs. Jack Tetlow, Miss Patricia Prouty, Gordon Prouty, The Rev. John Laidlaw, and the bride and groom.

Peggy Prouty Tells Wedding Date At Shower

Mrs. Merwyn Olsen, Mrs. Leger Horton and Miss Ruth Prouty were hostesses Friday evening at the Prouty home for a bridal shower feting Miss Peggy Prouty. During the evening Miss Prouty told friends of her engagement and approaching marriage to Frank Parker December 18.

Miss Prouty is the daughter of Mrs. Pearl L. Prouty and Mr. Parker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eben P. Parker. The bridegroom-to-be is a senior at Oregon State college and a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Games were in play during the evening with prizes going to Miss Betty Holst and Mrs. Fred Jensen. Clues concealed in poems in balloons about the rooms led the bride-elect to the hidden gifts. Pink and white chrysanthemums were used about the rooms and centering the refreshment table was a large decorated cake topped with a miniature bride and groom under an arch.

Present were Mrs. Fay Hanks, Mrs. Leonard Donaldson and Mrs. Rose Edwards, all of Seaside, Mrs. Mary Knoblock, Mrs. Pearl Prouty, Mrs. Ed Thomas, Mrs. Orville Nygaard, Mrs. Davis Danielsen, Mrs. Fred Jensen, Mrs. Howard Parker, Mrs. Eino Juola, Mrs. Bud Christensen, Mrs. Charles Ordway, Mrs. Eben Parker, Miss Muriel Nygaard, Miss Betty Holst, Miss Virginia Prouty, the hostesses, Mrs. Olsen, Mrs. Horton and Miss Prouty, and the guest of honor, Miss Peggy Prouty.

Peggy Prouty; Frank Parker Pledge Vows

A beautiful candlelight ceremony read Wednesday evening at the First Methodist church united in marriage Miss Margaret Ann Prouty, daughter of Mrs. Pearl L. Prouty, and Frank F. Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eben P. Parker, all of Astoria. Rev. R. A. Fedge officiated in a setting of white chrysanthemums, palms and greens at 7:30 o'clock.

Preceding the service Mrs. Lester Horton and Mrs. Mervin Olsen lighted the tapers and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hall sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." Accompanying them at the organ was Mrs. C. A. Reed, who also played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Gordon Prouty. She wore a traditional white satin gown with full skirt, fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline. Her fingertip veil was caught in a tangle of seed pearls and she wore her mother's gold locket. Her flowers were Talisman roses centered with an orchid.

Miss Virginia Prouty was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a pink gown with bouffant net skirt and taffeta bodice and carried a nosegay of roses. Acting as best man was George Zeffick and ushers were Davis Danielsen and Joe Day.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's mother. White and yellow chrysanthemums were about the rooms and centering the bride's table was a three-tiered wedding cake topped with pink roses and a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. John Chisholm poured and Mrs. Lester Horton cut the cake. Assisting were Mrs. Gordon Prouty and Miss Ruth Prouty. In charge of the guest book was Miss Betty Host.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Prouty wore a blue velvet afternoon dress with blue accessories and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Parker, wore a black afternoon dress with matching accessories. Both had corsages of pink rosebuds.

After a wedding trip down the coast, Mr. and Mrs. Parker will make their home in Corvallis, where Mr. Parker is attending Oregon State college.

For traveling Mrs. Parker wore a brown dressmaker suit with brown fur coat and accessories and an orchid corsage.

Out of town guests here for the wedding were Mrs. Leonard Donaldson and daughter, Evelyn Marie, and Mrs. Fay Hanks of Seaside, George Zeffick, Paul Svenson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Day, Bill McGinnis and Paul Johnson, all of Corvallis, Mrs. Leonard Geisberg of Kelson, Mrs. H. McAdam of Rainier and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Prouty and family of Carlton, Ore.

Christ Chapel Prouty-Burnett Wedding Scene

Calla lilies and spirea decorated Christ chapel of the First Methodist church Friday, May 21, for the wedding of Miss Virginia Louise Prouty, daughter of Mrs. Pearl L. Prouty of Astoria, and Classen Roy Burnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus L. Burnett, also of this city. Rev. R. A. Fedge performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Gordon Prouty. She wore a beige afternoon dress with pink hat with matching veil and brown accessories. Her corsage was of orchids.

Miss Betty Holst was maid of honor. She wore a powder blue afternoon dress with matching accessories and a corsage of sweet peas and yellow rosebuds. Mervin Olson acted as best man and Lester Horton was usher.

Preceding the ceremony the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Harold Avery, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Stone Kinney. Mrs. Kinney played the wedding music.

Mrs. Pearl Prouty chose for her daughter's wedding a blue chiffon velvet afternoon dress and Mrs. R. L. Burnett, the bridegroom's mother, wore a cream wool afternoon dress. Both had corsages of gardenias.

Members of the immediate families attended the wedding and reception which followed at the home of the bride's mother. A bowl of white snapdragons flanked by white tapers centered the tea table. Miss Ruth Prouty poured and Mrs. Mervin Olson cut the wedding cake. Out of town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Prouty of Carlton, Keith Prouty of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parker of Corvallis.

The couple left for a short wedding trip down the coast and upon their return will be at home at the Home apartments. For traveling Mrs. Burnett wore a moss green suit with brown accessories and a beige topcoat.

June Prouty Weds Lester Horton At Lovely Service

Miss June Prouty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Prouty of Astoria, became the bride of Lester Horton, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Horton also of this city, at a lovely ceremony held Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church with the Rev. P. M. Blenkinsop reading the services.

The church was lovely in decorations of greens and late summer flowers. Immediately preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Dan C. Hall sang "I Love You Truly" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told." Mrs. C. A. Reed played the wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown, fashioned on the princess lines with a long train and small built-up collar. Her long white tulle veil was caught coronet style at the back of her head. She carried a lovely bride's bouquet of pale yellow rose buds and bouvardia.

Miss Patricia Prouty, sister of the bride, and maid of honor, wore a waltz blue satin gown, fitted on the basque style with a gathered waistline and short puff sleeves. The Misses Peggy and Virginia Prouty, sisters of the bride, were her bridesmaids, wearing similarly styled gowns of rose satin. The maid of honor carried a nosegay of pink sweetpeas and the bridesmaids carried similar nosegays of pale blue sweetpeas.

Best man for Mr. Horton was Eugene Mellison, cousin of the groom of Seattle, Wash. Ushers for the wedding were Donald Goodall, Ray Prouty, George Peeke and Raymond Horton.

Mrs. A. N. Prouty wore a wine colored afternoon dress and a lovely corsage of gardenias and Mrs. Horton, a lovely black afternoon dress with a similar corsage.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the wedding. The bride's table was attractive with a large wedding cake set off with white tapers in silver candelabra. Miss Lucy Horton, sister of the groom, served the wedding cake and Mrs. Dorothy Haase and Miss Ruth Prouty poured. Assisting about the rooms was Miss Helen Horton.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home here in Astoria where Mr. Horton is employed by the Fisher Brothers Hardware company. For going away the bride wore a wine ensemble with a brown fur coat and brown accessories.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Margaret Prouty, Miss Gloria Prouty and Mrs. Thompson of Portland and Eugene Mellison of Seattle.

A. N. Prouty, Retired Mill Man, Passes

Arthur Newton Prouty, 58, member of the family which has operated the Prouty Lumber & Box company sawmill in Warrenton since 1922, died early Wednesday morning in Riverside, Cal., where he had been living for the past several months.

Mr. Prouty was born in 1881 in Lawton, Ia. In 1900 he came west to Bellingham, Wash., where he and his brothers operated a sawmill at the nearby town of Ferndale. He was married there to Pearl Rogers of Bellingham in 1905.

In 1912 the Proutys came to Seaside and established a sawmill there, later establishing the present Warrenton mill in 1922.

Mr. Prouty retired from business last September because of ill health that had plagued him in recent years. Recently he had moved to Riverside for his health.

Mr. Prouty was much interested in yachting activities, being owner of a power cruiser, the Joanne, a familiar figure on the Astoria waterfront and in northwest waters.

He was for years an active member of the Astoria Yacht club and was commodore of the club in 1936.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Pearl Prouty of Riverside, Cal.; six daughters, Ruth and Patricia Prouty of Astoria, Virginia and Margaret Prouty of Riverside, Mrs. June Horton of Astoria and Mrs. Dorothy Haase of Concrete, Wash.; three sons, Raymond of Oregon State college, Gordon of Seaside and Keith of Astoria.

Funeral services will be announced later. The E. B. Hughes mortuary is in charge.

Peggy Prouty; Frank Parker Pledge Vows

A beautiful candlelight ceremony read Wednesday evening at the First Methodist church united in marriage Miss Margaret Ann Prouty, daughter of Mrs. Pearl L. Prouty, and Frank F. Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eben P. Parker, all of Astoria. Rev. R. A. Fedje officiated in a setting of white chrysanthemums, palms and greens at 7:30 o'clock.

Preceding the service Mrs. Lester Horton and Mrs. Mervin Olsen lighted the tapers and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hall sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." Accompanying them at the organ was Mrs. C. A. Reed, who also played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Gordon Prouty. She wore a traditional white satin gown with full skirt, fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline. Her fingertip veil was caught in a tiara of seed pearls and she wore her mother's gold locket. Her flowers were Talsman roses centered with an orchid.

Miss Virginia Prouty, was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a pink gown with bouffant net skirt and taffeta bodice and carried a nosegay of roses. Acting as best man was George Zeffick and ushers were Davis Danielsen and Joe Day.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's mother. White and yellow chrysanthemums were about the rooms and centering the bride's table was a three-tiered wedding cake topped with pink roses and a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. John Chisholm poured and Mrs. Lester Horton cut the cake. Assisting were Mrs. Gordon Prouty and Miss Ruth Prouty. In charge of the guest book was Miss Betty Holst.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Prouty wore a blue velvet afternoon dress with blue accessories and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Parker, wore a black afternoon dress with matching accessories. Both had corsages of pink rosebuds.

After a wedding trip down the coast, Mr. and Mrs. Parker will make their home in Corvallis, where Mr. Parker is attending Oregon State college.

For traveling Mrs. Parker wore a brown dressmaker suit with brown fur coat and accessories and an orchid corsage.

Out of town guests here for the wedding were Mrs. Leonard Donaldson and daughter, Evelyn Marie, and Mrs. Fay Hanks of Seaside, George Zeffick, Paul Evensen, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Day, Bill McGinnis and Paul Johnson, all of Corvallis, Mrs. Leonard Gadenberg of Kelso, Mrs. H. McAdam of Rainier and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon B. Prouty and family of Carlton, Ore.

Christ Chapel Prouty-Burnett Wedding Scene

Calla lilies and spirea decorated Christ chapel of the First Methodist church Friday, May 21, for the wedding of Miss Virginia Louise Prouty, daughter of Mrs. Pearl L. Prouty of Astoria, and Classen Roy Burnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus L. Burnett, also of this city. Rev. R. A. Fedje performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Gordon Prouty. She wore a beige afternoon dress with pink hat with matching veil and brown accessories. Her corsage was of orchids.

Miss Betty Holst was maid of honor. She wore a powder blue afternoon dress with matching accessories and a corsage of sweet peas and yellow rosebuds. Mervin Olson acted as best man and Lester Horton was usher.

Preceding the ceremony the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Harold Avery, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Stone Kinney. Mrs. Kinney played the wedding music.

Mrs. Pearl Prouty chose for her daughter's wedding a blue chiffon velvet afternoon dress and Mrs. R. L. Burnett, the bridegroom's mother, wore a cream wool afternoon dress. Both had corsages of gardenias.

Members of the immediate families attended the wedding and reception which followed at the home of the bride's mother. A bowl of white snapdragons flanked by white tapers centered the tea table. Miss Ruth Prouty poured and Mrs. Mervin Olson cut the wedding cake. Out of town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Prouty of Carlton, Keith Prouty of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parker of Corvallis.

Keith Edward Parker

Jan. 6, 1948 - July 21, 2011

Keith was born Jan. 6, 1948, in Fort Lewis, Wash., to Frank Parker and Margaret (Prouty) Parker. He passed away July 21, 2011, in Coos Bay.

Keith grew up in Astoria, graduating from Astoria High School and Clatsop Community College. He then went on to graduate from OIT in Klamath Falls with degrees in automotive and diesel mechanics. He spent the summer months working on Eddie Goodrich's fishing vessel, the F/V Mel-Don out of Astoria and earned enough to pay for his college education.

Keith and Janice Franz were married March 22, 1969, in Coos Bay. They spent the first year of their marriage in Kodiak, Alaska, where Keith worked for Littrell Supply Co. and for West Coast Trucking as a diesel mechanic before going to work for Rockpoint Logging where he drove a self-loader for 35 years. He loved driving log truck and looked forward to going to work every day. When he wasn't logging, Keith spent most of his free time working on their ranch on Daniels Creek where he and Janice had lived for the past 41 years.

Keith loved camping, especially in the Ruby Mountains of Nevada and the Redwoods of California, floating the Umpqua, fishing at Diamond Lake with his father-in-law, Dick and spending time with his family. His biggest thrill of all was watching his son, Jeff, race his Toyota 4x4 in the mud drags. Keith was a gentle, hardworking man; a man of few words who had a heart of gold. He was always willing to help anyone in need. He will be greatly missed by all who knew and loved him.

Keith is survived by his wife of 42 years, Janice Parker of Coos Bay; son, Jeff Parker of Coos Bay and grandson, Tyler of Corvallis; brother, Frank Parker of Dayton; sister, Becky Dacasin and her husband, Al of Vancouver, Wash; sister, Terry Parker and her husband, Barr Washburn of Eugene; sister, Heidi Morris and her husband, Chris of Rancho Palos Verdes, California; as well as Amy Webster and son, Adam; and numerous nieces and nephews.

Keith was preceded in death by his parents, Frank Freeman Parker and Margaret Ann Parker. Private cremation rites were held at Ocean View Memory Gardens in Coos Bay.

You are invited to join our family in a celebration honoring Keith's life. Join us at Shively Hall, located near the Astoria Reservoir in Shively Park at 1:00 PM Saturday, October 15, 2011 for a casual sharing of life refreshments memories and a few of Keith's favorite things.
